SYMPATHETIC MESSAGES pour into the White House from friends close by, and from the other side of the world.

Only those that have seen a child die can know the sorrow of the President and his wife.

Only mothers with broken hearts can know how that mother felt, when the tank of oxygen was brought into her boy's room. Realizing that the natural air could no longer keep his feeble heart beating, she realized also that death was near. Only mothers know.

IMAGINE HOW the political bosses laugh, when they get together in the convention, and make their deals. There they are densely ignorant, having come up through the front or rear rooms of liquor saloons.

They began by having enough power to protect the public gambler, or disorderly resort, from policemen on the beat.

Now they find themselves with enough to pick out the candidate to run for President of the United States.

If you were a bullet-headed, round-faced, small-eyed, thick-skulled, densely ignorant political boss, understanding nothing but graft and low politics, and you found yourself able to nominate a man for President of the United States, YOU WOULD LAUGH ALSO.

B. G. LAMME is dead. How many of our 112,000,000 know his name? He was one of the four greatest electricians in this country. Edison, Tesla and Steinmetz were the other three. Lamme and Steinmetz are gone.

A master of electrical science, Lamme was creator of 150 useful inventions, and called "the greatest mathematician."

At his work as chief engineer for the Westinghouse Company, Lamme was helped by two sisters, one, with a desk beside his, was chief designer of direct current motors.

Those two sisters worked with their brother, as the sisters of Herschel and Renan worked with their famous brothers.

Such work is better than the fame that passes with the death notice.

JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER, 85 years old yesterday, tells the world his greatest pleasure is doing good to others. Spending for health and education scores of millions, he stands among those that have helped their fellowmen.

HELPING OTHERS is the only thing worth while, when youth's first foolish flush is past.

The human that first sailed a boat, dug a pit to catch mammoths, fastened a flint at the end of a club, used writing instead of speech, tamed the first female buffalo, kept alive the first fire —all those live forever servants of the world.

JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER, through his scientific institute, has fought and conquered diseases more deadly than an ancient monster. And, above all, he has ended the foolish theory that competition is necessary. Some day when the people own their natural wealth, and build their universities and scientific institutions, instead of depending on charity, they will build a great monument to "John D. Rockefeller, DESTROYER OF COMPETITION."

Having learned that HE can do it, they will learn to do it themselves.

BIG BUSINESS made up its mind that it wouldn't have Mr. McAdoo at any price, and big business usually has its way.

Perhaps Providence, looking down upon us, knows that that is the best plan. "One at a time, gentlemen," as the parrot said when the crows were picking at his eyes. A nation, like an individual, does only one thing at a time.

Just now the big thing is organization of industry. Anything interfering with that might be bad, just as any interference with slavery would have been bad in the days of Pericles, when lack of slaves would have made Greek civilization impossible.

Welfare Committee Denounces Dangerous Doctrines of Radical College Professors

By BERT FORD.

A smashing blow at the foes of American government and institutions was dealt today by the social and community welfare committee of the Grand Lodge of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks in a report on the social activities of the order. Radical college professors were denounced.

"The danger does not come so much from organized groups, spreading a dangerous propaganda, brought to this country from foreign shores," says the report, "as it does from the educated classes of our own countrymen, who in colleges and universities are filling the minds of collegiate youths with a dangerous doctrine that strikes at the very foundation of our form of government."

There was a general exodus of the Elks and their guests to Nantasket Beach today. Many of them had their first swim in salt water and their first shore dinner.

A warning was sounded by the newly-elected Grand Exalted Ruler, John G. Price, of Columbus, O., former attorney general of the Buckeye State, in a speech of acceptance before the Grand Lodge.

DESTROYING DIFFERENCES.

"Antagonistic influences are always at work and never directed against useless things," said Price, "but on the contrary often seek to destroy beneficial institutions; and so it is with our government."

Social and community workers in Elkdom found conditions so sinister in certain quarters that the retiring grand exalted ruler, James G. McFarland of Watertown, South Dakota, emphasized in his annual re-

Star who admits she is seeking divorce from husband No. 3 in Californian court. She intimates that her next matrimonial mate will be Ben Lyon, her new juvenile lead.

BARBARA WILL WED NO. 4

New York, July 9.—Barbara La Marr, in her incense-scented, dimly-lit apartment at No. 853 Seventh avenue, confided to an American reporter:

"I hate rumors. It has been rumored that I'm about to get a divorce from Jack Daugherty. Please kill that rumor and make it a fact.

"Time, August 3, 1924; place, Los Angeles; attorneys for the plaintiff, Milton Cohen and Armstrong, Los Angeles; grounds—use your imagination.

"I can only say that I caught Jack with the goods.'

Thus a rumor becomes a fact, and another rumor was discussed:

"Is it true that after you get your divorce from Mr. Daugherty you will take your fourth matrimonial fling?"

This question was asked of Miss La Marr as she stood on a small pedestal, trying on an eye-wounding gown for an awe-stricken modiste. At one end of the room stood Ben Lyon, her brand new juvenile, who, in Barbara's own fervid language,

COOLIDGE RITES AT CAPITAL

Simple Services at the White House This Afternoon: Public Admitted to Grounds

Washington, July 9.—(I.N.S.)—In the flower filled East Room of the White House, watched over by his sailor chums from the yacht Mayflower, the body of Calvin Coolidge, Jr., lay today.

Tonight at 8 o'clock the 16-year-old son of the President, whose death has saddened the National Capital and called forth deep grief and sympathy from a whole nation, will begin the long journey, first to the scenes of his childhood at Northampton, Mass., and then to the little cemetery among the rugged Vermont hills where he will sleep forever among his ancestors.

Simple funeral services will be held at the White House at four o'clock this afternoon. There will be no sermon, in keeping with the desire of the President and Mrs. Coolidge to avoid all formal or official ceremonies.

SHORT PRAYER.

A short prayer will be offered by Rev. Jason Noble Pierce, pastor of the First Congregational Church of Washington, followed by the singing of one of the boy's favorite hymns and the reading of the Congregational funeral ritual.

Intimate friends of the Presidential family, members of the cabinet, senators and congressmen and members of the diplomatic corps have been advised of the hour of the funeral, and informed that "should attendance cause them inconvenience the President would be deeply honored."

President Coolidge visited his office this forenoon. Secretary Hughes, who returned today from Philadelphia, called on him. Mr. Hughes, with Mrs. Hughes, will join other members of the Cabinet at the funeral this afternoon and will go to Northampton and Plymouth.

Secretaries Mellon and Hoover will not accompany the funeral party. Mr. Mellon is in Europe and Mr. Hoover is in California, but Secretaries Weeks, Work and New will attend the services here.

Government departments were ordered by their heads to close at 2:00 p. m. No official instructions went out, but each department, acting for itself, decided to cease all business an hour before the funeral services.

PUBLIC TO GATHER.

Because of the general expressions of sympathy throughout the Capital the President will permit the public to gather, if they desire, in the North Grounds of the Executive Mansion, facing on Pennsylvania avenue. Only invited guests, however, will be admitted to the White House and

KLANSMEN ROUTED BY GUARD

Flee When Four Officers of 26th Division Appear on the Scene

Camp Devens, July 9.—Four officers of the Massachusetts National Guard, alone and unaided, routed a big gathering of the Ku Klux Klan on a hill on the Shirley-Leominster road.

Three of the officers are residents of Boston. They are Major George Gilbody of Dorchester, Lieutenant David Michaels of South Boston, and Captain William J. Blake of the Veterans' Bureau, Boston.

The fourth member of the party was Captain Dennis Hagerty of Worcester.

FLEE ON APPROACH.

After the Klansmen had fled the National Guard officers proceeded to extinguish a forty-foot electrically illuminated cross.

The officers were motoring from Sterling to Camp Devens when the meeting was drawn to their attention by the huge lighted cross. Including spectators, fully 3,500 people were assembled.

They alighted and proceeded up the hill to where the hordes of Klansmen were meeting, minus their hoods and flowing robes.

At the approach of the guardsmen, the entire crowd scrambled for machines and in an incredibly short time had disappeared. The officers reported that the machines bore registrations from the six New England States.

NEAR TARGET SPOT

It is believed the meeting was held in the interests of establishing Klan headquarters in Massachusetts.

Army authorities at Camp Devens had planned to start nightly maneuvers at the spot where the meeting was interrupted. Were these maneuvers started earlier, the Klansmen might have been in danger, since the target is located near the spot where the cross was erected.

2 U. S. WINS IN OLYMPICS

Olympic Stadium, Coombes, France, July 9.—As a result of wins in three places in the 110-meter hurdles and four places in the 200-meter dash America's athletes swelled their total of points to 122 as compared with 56 for Finland, their nearest competitor.

The American flag was to first hunting of all nations to fly over the Stadium when three men flashed across the finishing line in the hurdles race.

Dan Kinsey of the University of Illinois won the event in the fast time of 15" seconds. Atkinson of South Africa was second with Peters and Christenson of Sweden third and fourth respectively. Karl Anderson of Illinois was fifth and George Guthrie of Ohio State sixth.

Only a short space of time elapsed before the American emblem was again at the top mast. Jackson V. Scholz of the New York A. C. equalled the record made at Athens by Archie Mann, back in 1904, when he led the field to the second in the 200-meter dash.

Charles Paddock of the United States was second, E. H. Liddell of Great Britain third, George Hill, University of Penn, fourth; Hayes Norton of Yale fifth and Abrahams

TWENTY HURT IN MALDEN JITNEY CRASH

Twenty passengers were hurt and as many more endangered today when the driver of a loaded jitney bus was overcome by the heat while driving along Salem street, Malden. The big bus crashed over the curb and on to the sidewalk. For 30 yards it raced along the brink of a 30-foot precipice, then struck a telephone pole and broke it in two. The car then broke off a hydrant and tore up a small tree. The driver then brought the car to a halt.

DAVIS HAS 316 ON 101ST BALLOT

Madison Square Garden, New York, July 9.—On the 101st ballot the vote was: John W. Davis 316, Underwood 229.5, E. T. Meredith 130, McAdoo 52, Smith 121. It was a gain of 113.5 for Davis, 187 for Underwood, 54.5 for Meredith and a loss of 230.5 for Smith and 138 for McAdoo.

DEADLOCK BREAK UP IN SIGHT

McAdoo and Smith Lose Most of Their Votes as 101st Ballot Is Taken

Madison Square Garden, New York, July 9.—John W. Davis of West Virginia sprang into the lead in today's balloting in the Democratic National Convention, with Oscar W. Underwood of Alabama close behind him.

In the break-up of the McAdoo and Smith forces in the 101st ballot Davis sprang into first place and many of the Smith votes, transferred to Underwood, put the Alabaman second.

E. T. Meredith of Iowa, to whom many of the McAdoo delegates were attempting to deliver their strength, was a slow third.

ONLY HALF AWAKE

Weary and only half awake, the convention reassembled today to gather up the pieces from last night's explosion and attempt to reassemble them into a national ticket.

McAdoo supporters awaited word of formal withdrawal from Governor Smith before proceeding to throw their strength elsewhere.

The indications were for a contest between John W. Davis who was riding a rising tide as the session adjourned early this morning and E. T. Meredith of Iowa, Secretary of Agriculture in President Wilson's Cabinet, to whom McAdoo leaders were attempting to deliver most of the McAdoo strength.

At the beginning of the session today, there was an undercurrent indicating a burst for Oscar W. Underwood of Alabama, whose support ures expected to draw strength from several states including New York, Ohio and Illinois.

At was in a wholly different atmosphere that the convention met today. The marching, singing bands of McAdoo women waving flags and declaring they intended to stay until Christmas for "Mac-ee-doo" were absent.

EMPTY SPACES

There were scores of empty chairs in the delegates and alternate sections and canvasses of their forces by delegation leaders showed that few of the delegations were up to full strength.

The convention was running from today onward at the expense of the Democratic national committee and the band in the loft although still playing vigorously was doing so at the expense of the mayor's committee.

Apparently the musicians were still on full pay for they tackled William Tell for the 41st time with enthusiasm.

Meredith workers were busy on the floor carrying the word from the McAdoo people and the plans were for Georgia and Texas which have been solid McAdoo delegations to go for Meredith on the first ballot today.

There were some votes for Davis in Texas, but it was being held under unit rule. Georgia, it was said, was ready to kick the unit rule, but the majority was expected to follow the McAdoo advice for Meredith.

Massachusetts, which has been voting 33½ for Smith, and 2½ for McAdoo, was in a predicament. The wares six. Dr. Murphree of Florida, one of Bryan's several candidates got four of the Florida vote. Georgia split for the first time, giving McAdoo eleven, but twelve to Meredith and five to John W. Davis.

Idaho's eight went solid to David F. Houston, former Secretary of the Treasury. Senator Walsh of Montana and Underwood picked up scattering votes in various States as the roll call proceeded.

LEAVE RITCHIE

Maryland got up the Davis band wagon on the ballot and gave Governor Ritchie's sixteen to the West Virginian. Governor Ritchie announced the ballot.

Smith followers today decided to split up their vote and permit delegates to ballot for their own preferences for the present. It was believed a majority of the votes would go first to Underwood.

When New Jersey broke up, 16 of its votes went to Underwood and 12 went to Glass. In North Carolina J. W. Davis picked up 20. In Ohio he got 23 more.

Then in Pennsylvania the West Virginian picked up 12½ more. South Carolina, which had been voting solidly for McAdoo, gave Davis 18 votes under the unit rule. It put him in the lead for the first time.

Texas turned its 46 bodily for Meredith.

Virginia gave half of her 24 to J. W. Davis also, but kept 12 for Glass.

TO UNDERWOOD

New York split up, giving the bulk of her vote to Underwood.

Then Connecticut changed her vote and gave eleven of her fourteen to Underwood also.

Tennessee on her break-up gave Davis fifteen.

ALIENS ON CAPTURED SHIP TO BE DEPORTED

New Orleans, July 9.—Fourteen Chinese and 12 Hungarians, passengers on the schooner Abeona, captured by a coast guard cutter after a six hour chase from Barataria Bay to La Fitte, on the lower Louisiana coast, were held today at the immigration station in Algiers for deportation.

FIRE THREATENS SILVER LAKE COLONY

Wilmington, July 9.—Cottagers along Silver Lake were terrified when an exploding oilstove set fire to two cottages and a garage. For a time it was feared that the fire would spread all down the lake, but help was called from Woburn and the blaze was extinguished.

Who Is Meredith? He's an Editor, Banker and Ex-Cabinet Member

Edwin Thomas Meredith, former secretary of agriculture, and publisher, banker and business man, was born in Avoca, Ia., December 23 1876. He has been a leader in politics and business in Iowa for a number of years, and was a candidate for United States Senator in 1914 and for Governor of Iowa in 1916.

Mr. Meredith held several important positions during the Wilson administration, receiving his appointment as Secretary of Agriculture in January 5, 1920. In 1917, former Secretary of Treasury McAdoo named him a member of the Board of Excess Profit Advisors, and in October, 1919, he was appointed a member of the Industrial Conference by former President Wilson.

He is a director of the Chicago Federal Reserve Bank and the Home Trust and Savings Bank. Mr. Meredith also is a director of the United States Chamber of Commerce, National Association of Advertising Clubs and Greater Des Moines Commission. He is the founder of the Jefferson Highway.

Mrs. Meredith published the Farmers' Tribune, Des Moines, from 1896 to 1902, and edited "Successful Farming" in 1902.

EX-BOSTON COP GETS 6-MONTH SENTENCE

George F. Ryan, twenty-eight years of age, of No. 5 Elm street, Somerville, former member of the Boston police force, was found guilty by Judge M. E. Sturtevant in the Somerville District Court today of receiving a prisoner from Patrolman Patrick J. Doolin, as he was attacked by a crowd on the night of June 29 in Wilson square, Somerville.

Ryan was sentenced to six months in the House of Correction. He appealed and was held in $3,000 surety.

Doolin was placing Ralph Baroni under arrest for drunkenness when assaulted. Baroni and two others are under sentence, from which they have appealed, having been found guilty by Judge Smith of charges growing out of the mix up.

BREAKING AUTO LAWS COSTS DRIVER $125

Fred Riley, twenty-three years of age, of No. 47 Glen street, Somerville, was found guilty of operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor on Middlesex avenue, Somerville, in the Somerville District Court today by Judge M. E. Sturtevant and fined $100.

A charge of drunkenness was filed. Riley was also fined $15 for operating an automobile with no license and assessed $10 for having no certificate of registration. Howard Harris, twenty-three years of age, of Main street, Everett, was also riding with Riley at the time. was arrested by Motor Cycle Officer Daniel M. O'Connell for drunkenness and fined $10.

EX-RAIL HEAD KILLS HIS WIFE AND SELF

Michigan City, Ind., July 9.—Senile dementia is believed by the authorities to have caused Charles N. Wilcoxen, 68, former president of the Chicago, Lake Shore and South Bend Railway Company, operating between Chicago and South Bend, Ind., to kill his wife, 70, with an axe, a razor and a potato masher, and then hang himself at their Long Beach, Ind., home.

The bodies, fully clothed, were found by officers, who, summoned by neighbors, broke into the home.

BISHOP LAWRENCE IS RESTING WELL

Bar Harbor, Me., July 9.—The Right Rev. William Lawrence of Boston, bishop of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of Eastern Massachusetts, was reported at the hospital here to be "doing exceptionally well" in his convalescence from a mastoid operation.

Both pulse and temperature were normal, the physicians said. He was visited by Mrs. Lawrence, who is at the Lawrence Summer home here, and other members of his immediate family.

BAR BODY SEES GOOD IN WORLD COURT PLAN

Philadelphia, July 9.—Belief that a permanent court of international justice would "grvieeionsephih e justice would "give prevision by judicial decision to conflicts arising from different conceptions of international rights" was expressed today in the report of the international law committee of the American Bar Association, presented by James Brown Scott, Washington, the committee chairman.

MALONE TELLS BRYAN IT'S TIME TO QUIT

New York, July 9 (I.N.S.)—Dudley Field Malone, former Collector of the Port of New York, today made public a copy of a letter he had sent William Jennings Bryan, in which he accused the commoner of wrecking the Democratic party by injecting the religious issue into the fight for the presidential nomination.

Malone declared the time had come when Bryan should retire from activity in the Democratic party.

Commoner Sees Early End to Convention as Delegates Begin to Break Away

By W. J. BRYAN.

New York, July 9.—The break has come and the convention will soon be over.

By "soon" I do not mean a few hours, but there is nothing now to prevent the convention from getting together on some man as soon as the delegates are able to get out the candidates and pick the strongest one. It was a very interesting session and brought out some artistic political touches.

Governor Smith, having climbed up above Mr. McAdoo's vote, felt that the time was opportune for his withdrawal. With this purpose in view, he put a letter in the hands of his manager, Mr. Roosevelt, to be read to the convention at its opening.

Governor Smith offered to withdraw immediately after Mr. McAdoo, calling attention to the fact that he had now the largest number of votes. Mr. McAdoo had a drive on and so did not give immediate attention to Mr. Smith's proposition.

McADOO QUITS THE FIGHT.

When, however, Mr. McAdoo's vote rose above Mr. Smith's vote, he was in position to announce to his supporters his willingness to have them follow their own judgment. His unrest appal in behalf of a dry and progressive candidate will be heeded by the convention.

It was certainly a release of his votes, although the word "release" did not appear in the letter, and he distinctly disavowed any withdrawal of his name. Before his letter reached that hall, two more ballots had been taken, and his vote was declining.

It so happened that the last ballot gave him one-half vote more than Governor Smith had, so that they retired arm-in-arm, so to speak, with almost exactly the same vote.

While a majority of the supporters of the two leading candidates preferred to stay with them, Mr. McAdoo polling 190 and Mr. Smith 240 on the ballot following the breaking away was sufficient to make it certain that tomorrow the convention will be ready to give a trial to several of the leading dark horses.

DAVIS CANNOT WIN.

Mr. Davis is leading in the compromise race, but his friends were surprised that he did not gain on the last ballot that immediately followed the reading of Mr. McAdoo's letter. He is, however, the candidate of big business and will have to be defeated before any one else can reach a maximum vote.

Mr. Davis' professional connection with J. Pierpont Morgan, with the telephone company, with the window glass trust and other big corporations, is too well known then it is astonishing that anyone would count him available at a time like this.

The representatives of big business who are now so active in his behalf, will not support him in the campaign, they will do as they did in 1904, namely, desert our ticket and support the Republican ticket.

Mr. Meredith received a part of the McAdoo vote, and Senator Walsh of Montana received nearly all of the rest. Both of them are superior men. Mr. Meredith lives in the greatest agricultural State in the Union, publishes one of the largest agricultural papers, and, as Secretary of Agriculture under Mr. Wilson, as well as outside of office, has taken a deep interest in the welfare of the farmer.

Senator Walsh is a man of the highest type and a statesman of whom any nation might be proud. The convention will not make a mistake if it nominates either one of them.

'makes Valentino look like a Sears-Roebuck bick."

At Mr. Lyon's well shod feet lay Tige. Miss La Marr's pollee dog, and clinging to his right hand was "sonny," the three-year-old adopted son of Barbara. It was a charming little family scene.

Miss La Marr and Mr. Lyon exchanged significent, amused glances.

"I can only say," Barbara remarked, 'that I don't intend to remain single, and I certainly don't intend to be a bigamist. Eh, Benny, dearest?"

"Those are my sentimets, darling." Mr. Lyon, the exquisite, responded.

"In New York," went on Miss La Marr dreamily, "it is rather a difficult matter to secure a divorce. The authorities are so strict. They demand actual proof of infidelity. In California they have only to establish undue friendship, and—poof: you're divorced."

Then a third question was asked of the dazzling Barbara, who has written three chapters in her matrimonial book of experience.

"You will not deny an ardent friendship for Mr. Lyon?"

"You will recall," the lady on the pedestal drawled, "that some time ago I said a vamp in the movies was a failure unless she could be a vamp in real life. I haven't changed my opinion on that subject. Eh, Benny, my own?"

"Indeed, Barbara, precious," agreed the perfect Mr. Lyon.

Miss La Marr's first husband was Sir L. Ainsworth, an actor. She was divorced from him in Chicago and then married another actor, Ben Deeley.

Mr. Deeley, discovering what he alleged was a flaw in the divorce proceedings, sued for an annulment, and in the maze of legal proceedings which followed, Barbara broke the tedium of court action by marrying Mr. Daugherty, who is a director for the Universal Film Company.

Mr. Lyon, who is a close friend of Mr. Daugherty, came across the continent when he learned that Miss La Marr was about to make a picture in the East, and as soon as he arrived was engaged as juvenile.

SECOND FIANCE OF EVERETT GIRL SPURNS PA AND MA HONEYMOON

FOLLOWS IN FOOTSTEPS OF THE DANCING JUNKMAN

Mothers-in-law and fathers-in-law again stalk as gaunt spectres to haunt the love affairs of Miss Mildred Dolbeare, professional dancer of No. 193 Springvale avenue, Everett.

Miss Dolbeare is engaged to wed Robert W. MacArthur of No. 26 Claire avenue, Everett. The engagement was announced in the Spring.

At the time of the engagement Miss Dolbeare announced that her father and mother would have to go on her honeymoon—that it wouldn't be a nice time if Papa Dolbeare and Mamma Dolbeare weren't in on the wedding trip.

GROOM'S PARENTS DECLINE.

This announcement brought loud guffaws from Frederick Fawcett, Everett's "dancing junkman." He declared that for eight years he had been Miss Dolbeare's dancing partner at night—that he bought her a ring and that everything was set for the wedding, but too much prospective mother-in-law in his wedding life caused his love to grow cold.

Mr. MacArthur didn't say much about his fiancee's parents. The couple finally discussed the proposition of having the parents of both go on the honeymoon.

Now the parents of MacArthur have again spilled the beans by coming out and announcing that they wouldn't consider for a moment going on their son's wedding trip. Mamma MacArthur is very decided in her statements regarding the place of the parents of the bridal couple on a honeymoon.

WEDDING DATE UNCERTAIN

At any rate, the marriage intentions of the couple have been filed in Everett, but no date for the wedding has been set and the couple have given the impression that the event is still a matter for future discussion.

Fawcett's revelation of his own romance with Miss Dolbeare was the fly in the ointment when his former sweetheart and the Everett engineer announced their engagement.

Fawcett conducts a prosperous junk business by day, driving his own horse and wagon about Everett, collecting junk. In the evening he dons his evening clothes and goes forth as a dancer.

WISHES GROOM JOY.

"The young engineer seems to enjoy the prospect of his mother-in-law going along on the honeymoon" Fawcett said at the time the engagement was announced.

"Well, more power to Lim. For eight years I was her dancing partner. We danced at all kinds of social affairs. I bought her a diamond ring and we were all set to get married but I finally took a tumble to myself. Everywhere I went with Mildred her mother was along.

"The junk business is hard enough in itself without having to be worried about the mother of your wife so, finally, I told Mildred that our romance was shot full of holes—a total loss."

When Fawcett heard of the latest troubles brought about by the parents-in-law's injection into the case, he gave out a statement of just two words. This statement was: "Haw! Haw!"

ENGAGED--WEDDING IS STILL FAR OFF

MILDRED DOLBEAR

Former fiancee of dancing junkman, is engaged to Everett youth, but she doesn't know when she will be married, all because of the inevitable argument over mothers-in-law and fathers-in-laws and honeymoon trips.

WITH SING SING PEN, ANDERSON IS AUTHOR

New York, July 9.—Literary mood has fallen over William H. Anderson, former su-League, now in Sing Sing for forgery. He is engaged with the muse and the commissary department. Is providing him the pen, ink and paper at the regular rates.

Anderson's book will be called "Behind the Bars for Banishing the Bar." Its theme, he announces gravely, will be "The Story of America's first Prohibition prisoner."

Newburyport, July 9.—Burton Watson, who was arrested for kidnaping his eighteen-year-old girl wife, Marian Gordon Watson, a minor singer, of Oakland, Me., was released today when nobody appeared to prosecute him.

CANDIDATE BARRED IN NICARAGUA BY U. S.

Managua, Nicaragua, July 9.—Owing to the attitude of the American Government, the candidacy for re-election of President Martinez has been withdrawn. The American legation had issued a note to the effect that the American Government, while desiring the people to have absolute liberty at the polls, would recognize only a president elected in conformity with the Nicaraguan constitution which bars re-election of presidents.

ALLIES READY TO CARRY OUT DAWES PLAN

French and British Premiers Agree on Scheme; "Time and Patience" Are Needed

Paris, July 9. (A.P.)—A joint note to the Allies suggesting how the different questions connected with the application of the Dawes plan might be settled was drawn up at the conference today between Prime Minister MacDonald and Premier Herriot or Finance, the British Premier announced.

Mr. Macdonald said the documents he had drawn up with M. Herriot constituted the joint note which explained how the Dawes plan problems might be settled at the latter-allied London conference which convened Cost for July 16. He declared there was no thought of postponing the conference.

Mr. MacDonald continued—"We are facing an exceedingly intricate series of economic problems which have grown up in the last few years. It will take time, patience and generosity of feeling between the two countries to settle them. Given these conditions our countries will again become the most friendly on earth.

"We are not enemies trying to argue at Paris. We are friends trying to adjust some differences. We have succeeded in making a substantial beginning, but we must take up one thing at a time. The solution in one instance will open the way to two more solutions. We are not irreconcilable and we are obliged to deal with public opinion and with our parliaments."

REYNOLDS RESIGNS AS PENNY BANK HEAD

Announcement was made today by the Boston Penny Savings Bank of the resignation of John Reynolds, for twenty-five years president of the institution. George F. Baker, first vice-president and personal friend of the retiring president, also resigned. Frederick H. Briggs, treasurer of the bank for many years, was elected as the new president. George C. Morton, of Carpenter & Morton, was added to the Board of Investment.

Local thunder showers today and probably Thursday are expected to bring some measure of relief from the torrid wave which arrived coincidental with the arrival of the mercury of 83 degrees at the high.

Although Tuesday's weather reached a high point of 85 degrees at 1 p. m., only two heat prostrations were reported in Boston.

Percy Burt, twenty-four, of No. 240 Silver street, South Boston, was stricken while drilling with the National Guard at the Irvington street armory in Back Bay. He was admitted to the City Hospital.

Miss Mae Atkinson, sixteen, of No. 2360 Washington street, Jamaica Plain, was overcome while in Franklin Park, Dorchester. She was admitted to the City Hospital.

While thunder showers are predicted for today and tomorrow, the temperature will not change materially, according to the Boston Weather Bureau. Light south and southwest winds are indicated.

The temperature, after soaring to 88 at 4 p. m. Tuesday, dropped during the evening until it registered 77 degrees at midnight.

ASK MEXICO TO HUNT 2 AMERICAN BANDITS

Mexico City, July 9.—The American embassy has asked the cooperation of the Mexican police for the capture of three American bandits who attacked the residence of Mrs. Johnson, a wealthy American woman, at Mixcoac, near here. The bandits, who had been posing as rich oil men, demanded large sums from Mrs. Johnson, whose refusal was followed by the attack.

Victim of Mishap

MRS. DOROTHY MULDOON

Girl bride whose skull was fractured when she leaped from a blazing auto, also lives in No. 47 Germaine street, Quincy.

BRIDE HURT IN LEAP OUT OF BLAZING AUTO

Mrs. Dorothy Muldoon, 16-year-old bride of No. 47 Germaine street, Quincy, suffered a fractured skull in jumping from an automobile in which she was riding with two men and another girl when the car caught fire.

Mrs. Muldoon is at the City Hospital.

While her husband was at work the young wife joined a girl friend, Florence Beckmeyer of Charlestown, on an automobile party. James F. Randall and a young man named Rose, both of Charlestown, were also members of the party.

ATTEMPT TO KILL RUMANIAN CONSUL

London, July 9. (A.P.)—Two shots were fired today at the Rumanian Consulate and Legation here, neither of them taking effect. A Rumanian student is being detained by the police in connection with the shootings.

The student had called on the Consul ostensibly to obtain his advice and assistance. Further details of the shooting were withheld by the police and Consulate.

KLAN RIOTS IN PENN LEAD TO 14 ARRESTS

Policemen in Groups Corralled After Cross-Burning in Ardmore and Darby

Ardmore, Pa., July 9 (I.N.S.)—Fourteen men were under arrest today charged with inciting a riot, assault and battery, unlawful assembly and attempted murder in connection with two alleged Ku Klux Klan demonstrations here and in Upper Darby County, in which two policemen were shot.

All have confessed, according to police, and five of those held were members of suburban police forces.

The affair at Ardmore was started by burning a cross which caused an alarm to be turned in by persons who saw the blaze. Francis X. Bey and Albert Miller, Lower Merion township policemen, answered the call. When they saw two men walking away from the cross they demanded that they halt. Instead, they opened fire, wounding both policemen.

In Upper Darby township one policeman and nine of his friends, dressed as Klansmen, marched on a camp meeting of Negro Boy scouts which was followed by an exchange of shots.

BRITISH ADMIRAL SEES "TRUE FRIEND IN U. S."

San Francisco, July 9.—Closing a day during which officers and bluejackets of the British navy in large numbers fraternized with Americans on United States soil for the first time in many years, Vice Admiral Sir Frederick Field, commander of a world-touring British warship, predicted that the time is near when sentiments between England and America will melt away as the "white chrysanthemum in San Francisco harbor." He added: "This evidence of great friendship is not to be wondered at for the hearts of all true Americans as in the hearts of all true Britons is the spirit of true friendship."

Dr. Hourwich Dead

New York, July 9.—Dr. Isaac A. Hourwich, lawyer, statistician and author of books on immigration, labor and other subjects, died today. He was sixty-four years old and had served in the United States Mint and the Bureau of Census.

3 INJURED AS 1-MAN CAR AND AUTO CRASH

Head-on Collision in Putnamville Wrecks Trolley; No Passengers on Board

Danvers, July 9—A one-man electric car and an automobile crashed head-on at a sharp curve on the Topsfield road in Putnamville today. Three were injured. They were:

William E. E. Kelley of No. 32 Hobart street, Danvers, compound fracture of the skull and other injuries.

Austin Littlefield of Sherry street, Danvers, driver of the automobile, cuts and bruises.

John McCarthy, Hyde street, Danvers, abrasions and contusions.

Kelley is at Salem Hospital. He probably will die. He is a conductor, as is Littlefield.

The street car was lifted from the rails and partially wrecked, but the motorman-conductor was uninjured. There were no passengers aboard.

AMERICA DICTATOR OF EUROPE, HE SAYS

MOSCOW, July 9—(I. N. S.)—Karl Radek, of the Russian Soviet, declared today that the United States had become financial dictator of Europe.

Commenting upon the forthcoming reparations conference at London, he said:

"It means that the United States has decided to return to Europe and grasp the lever to pump gold from the German people. The conference will show that, as a result of the war, the United States has acquired unheard of power, completely dominating capitalistic Europe."

PAIR PAROLED AFTER LIQUOR CASE TRIAL

Mrs. Pauline Checco and her husband, Steve Checco, grocery store proprietors of No. 52 Lowell street, West End, were found guilty by Judge Parmenter in Municipal Court today of exposing intoxicating liquors for sale. They were placed on probation.

The Checcos were arrested on June 26 when police searched the store and seized three bottles beneath the counter, two of which, it was alleged, contained cognac.

Boston Colony at Bar Harbor Larger Than for Years, Says Betty Alden

By BETTY ALDEN.

THE Boston colony at Bar Harbor seems somewhat larger than it has been in recent years. Of the Hub folk enjoying the cool breezes of this very smart Mt. Desert Isle resort this summer are Mr. and Mrs. William C. Endicott, Jr., who are with Mrs. William C. Endicott at "Westfield."

Mrs. Endicott, Jr., whose Titian hair and tall, rather Junoesque figure make her most distinctive-looking, doubtless spends much of her time on the decks of the swimming Club, for she is a keen devotee of the net game. Later on the Endicotts will come for a late season stay at their home at Danvers.

OTHER Bostonians spending the Summer at this delightful watering-place include Dr. and Mrs. Augustus Thorndike, who have with them at "Spear Mead" Mrs. Lyndaman Crocker (Mary Thorndike) and Mr. R. Amory Thorndike. Their daughter, Mrs. Devereux Winslow (Alice Thorndike) with her family is occupying a cottage on the ocean front.

Isabel Thorndike

Apparently the plan of Thorndike and especially attracted to this Harbor resort, for the Harvey Hill Thorndikes also have a Summer place there. Last Summer Mr. and Mrs. Thorndike gave a number of delightful affairs at Bar Harbor for their daughter, Miss Isabel Thorndike, who made her formal bow in society in the Fall.

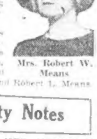
MR. AND MRS. BOBBY HILL-BROCK, JR., who have previously Summered at Manchester, are this year at Beverly Farms, where they have taken the house occupied by the Shore School, Inc. With them is their small son, Robert, Jr.

Mr. Herrick is an enthusiastic boater of the master, and music on the Dedham polo team. The Herricks have been making their Winter home in Dedham.

Mrs. Herrick who is a petite and most attractive blonde, has achieved more than a little renown as a painter, being especially clever at miniatures. She was formerly Miss Thelma Hall.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT W. MEANS and their young family are spending another season in their Wenpaficld home, the place at the Farms being occupied by others.

The Means family includes Miss Alice, Susan and Anne Means, and Robert L. Means.



Mrs. Robert W. Means

Society Notes

MR. AND MRS. HARRISON K. CANER of Philadelphia are now established for the season at Pellerimer, their Manchester place. Mr. and Mrs. Caner spend the Winter in California.

William S. Townsend of Boston, the other day caught fourteen trout weighing more than a pound apiece from the Kinsknper River at Stockbridge. That evening he and Mrs. Townsend gave a trout dinner for some friends at the Red Lion Inn at Stockbridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Caleb Loring have as their guest at "Red Cottage," Pocket Pleasing, Mrs. Loring's brother, Mrs. David J. Bolley of Georgia.

Maxwell Nemnich plans to return from abroad about the 15th of the month, when he will go to his Summer place at Hamilton, Mass., to remain until the Winter, as usual, at his Palm Beach villa.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Huggason Mahony have been visiting her mother, Mrs. Samuel Prodsmidani at Groveland. Mr. Lyons motor, Mr. and Mrs. Monohan Helen Poetlinemann were married about six months ago.

COUZENS BALKS ON AIDING COOLIDGE

Detroit, July 9—Senator James Couzens of Michigan, announcing his candidacy for nomination at the September primaries to succeed himself, today refused to pledge his full support to President Coolidge or other State or national Republican platform.

He challenged the right of party "bosses" to dictate his course of action, and made his bid for the vote of Michigan electors on his past record, for which he said he had no apologies to make.

ROBERT F. HERRICK, JR.

Robert F. Herrick, Jr., of Dedham is spending the Summer with Mrs. Herrick and young Robert Herrick, 3rd, at Beverly Farms. Mr. Herrick is one of the crack makers of the Dedham polo team.

LAW AND ORDER LEAGUE FOR NEWPORT

Newport, R. I., July 9.—Determined to break the wave of lawlessness following in the wake of recent bootlegging activities in the town of Middletown, an incipient crime wave in which restaurant brawls, shooting affrays and bold daylight robberies of liquor figured, leading citizens have formed a "law and order" league.

Formed in action by the sensational death of Thomas Cahill in Atlantic Beach on July 4 and the rounding up of rampant vice and open gambling at this resort, Sunday evening a hastily called meeting of prominent St. George's school.

Alex R. Wheeler, secretary of the Town Council, and Stanton Talbot, who presided, visited drug concern after the "wild duties" for the past two months and the "law and order" committee was hastily organized to combat the forces of allied corruption.

L ST. SWIMMER IS RESCUED BY LIFE-GUARDS

Victim of Cramps About to Give Up; 2 Girls and Boy Drowned

James Cochman, twenty-five years of age, of No. 123 Centre street, Jamaica Plain, was rescued from death by drowning today by Lifeguards Herman Bennett and John Hannon at the L street bathing pavilion, South Boston.

Seized with cramps as he splashed out 50 feet from the pavilion, Cochman cried for assistance. Devine and Hannon rowed him as he was about to give up his struggle to remain afloat. They brought him to the bath house and rubbed him down. He was able to go home after a rest.

THREE DROWNED, 3 SAVED.

Three girl chums left their homes in Somerville and went swimming with the aid of an inner tube of an automobile tire near the Lars Anderson Bridge on the Cambridge side of the Charles River.

The happy, carefree scenes were Nellie Nickerson, 16, of No. 737 Somerville avenue; Helen Atkins, fourteen, of No. 735 Somerville avenue, and Alice Rose, thirteen, of No. 20 Kent street, all of Somerville.

Several hundred feet from shore, the inner tube, in which the girls were floating, exploded. The girls sank.

Joseph Barry of Dana street, Cambridge, swam quickly to the aid of the distressed girls, and brought the Young girl safely to shore. She was removed to the Cambridge City Hospital, but died there shortly after arriving.

At the same time, a Metropolitan Park police officer was rescuing the Atkins girl. She was revived at the Cambridge City Hospital and is expected to recover.

The fact that the Rose girl had been a member of the party was not discovered until the girl's relatives reported to the police that she was missing.

NO GUARD ON DUTY.

While several hundred bathers swam on Earl J. Fay, thirteen, of No. 180 Boston street, South Boston, was drowned directly in front of the Columbus Park Bathhouse, South Boston, at 12:30. No lifeguard was on duty.

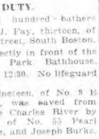
Toby Steel, nineteen, of No. 8 Hurd, Waverly, was saved from drowning in the Charles River by Armond Bisson of No. 25 Pearl street, Cambridge, and Joseph Burke, a life guard.

BOY DIES FROM FALL AS HE SEEKS BREEZE

Seventeen Brodsky, eleven-year-old West End boy, who fell seven stories from the roof of an apartment house at No. 51 Cambridge street Tuesday night, died today at Haymarket Square Relief Station of multiple injuries.

The lad, who lived with his parents at No. 51 Allen street, mounted to the roof of the Cambridge street house seeking relief from the heat. While playing with companions he stumbled over the roof's edge, falling 60 feet to the pavement.

Eyewitnesses thought the boy was instantly killed.



Earl J. Fay

Lack of Life-Guards Causes Fatality at So. Boston Beach

The dangerous condition of South Boston beaches, due to the inadequate number of lifeguards, was pointed out by the American June 24, after the rescue of three-year-old John Thornton at Columbus Park by a police officer, who happened along by sheer good luck.

It was prophesied that drownings would occur unless life-guards were supplied.

Yesterday Paul J. Fay was drowned directly in front of the Columbus Park bathhouse. The boy's disappearance was called to the attention of William O'Connor, a bathhouse attendant, but not in time for him to secure the boy. Had there been life-guards on duty this boy's life would have been spared.

The toll thus far this season is one life.

HANNIGAN ON BAR ASSOCIATION BOARD

John E. Hannigan of Boston was elected a member of the general council of the American Bar Association for 1924-25 at the convention in Philadelphia. Others chosen include George E. Beers, New Haven; James W. Remick, Concord, N. H.; George B. Young, Montpelier, Vt., and Frederick Evans Crane, New York.

John E. Hannigan

The general council represents every State and Territory in America and China.

AGREE ON SCHEME TO APPLY DAWES PLAN

Paris, July 9 (A.P.)—A plan for the application of the Dawes reparation settlement plan was practically agreed upon by Prime Minister MacDonald of Great Britain and Premier Herriot of France at the resumption of their conference today. It was explained, however, that the question would be gone over again and the plan possibly modified.

JAP FINDS $100, HONESTY GOES UNREWARDED

Nipponese Schoolboy Revises Opinion of Americans After Returning Lost Roll

Surmatsu Oura, honest Japanese schoolboy, of No. 145 Worcester street, South End, is perplexed.

"Those great American honor for which great notoriety has been persisted seems as near as my beloved Nippon," opined Surmatsu today as he talked with a reporter regarding the finding of "my West's $100" and the return of the same by honest Surmatsu.

"It gives me delighted compensation inside (Surmatsu lifted a hand to his heart) to restore the honorable West's nest-egg. In purse peer little Surmatsu is not heavy. What with those 'high cost of maintaining' and 'try and get it' Surmatsu must needs have those crispy bills of $100 total.

"But not so 'kid.' There is calling credential inside fat wallet which Surmatsu purloins from the gurtee with no person near. Those pasteboard says to Surmatsu: 'Restore these moneys to A. W. West, No. 164 West Springfield street. I go to that honorable house to find no West now owner of the moneys.

"Then to blue-light house where fat policeman doze and one he knows the Honorable West. And Mr. West returns to himself his $100 and poor Surmatsu restores himself to his domicile greatly extravagant in his thought about those much-heraid American honor."

Watch Out For Typhoid On Vacation

This is the season of the year when everyone should be thinking of protection against possible infection from typhoid fever, says the monthly bulletin of the Boston Health Department, just issued, adding:

"By far the greatest number of cases reported in Boston, occur in persons who have become infected with typhoid fever while spending vacations outside the city and the State.

"It is for this reason that everyone who is contemplating a Summer vacation outside the city should consider the matter of protection against typhoid fever."

WHAT THEY CAN'T, THEY TIN

THE ENGLISHMAN who said "tin" when he meant "can" did not know that beer was sold in a can. It comes in a box complete with collapsible metal stand, on which a pint aluminum saucepan stands. Pan has tight-fitting lid and metal handles which fold back against sides. All for 75 cents. Wonderful when you want to heat water, or soup, in a hurry. Handy to take camping. Boils eggs, heats water for shaving, too. Or use little frying pan over it. Just touch a match to contents of can. Lasts quite a while. Safe. No smell.

THE SAME HEAT container is clamped to a folding metal stand on which you put curling iron, so it sets about same. Complete in box, with good curling iron, stand, and heat, 25 cents. Special brand.

PRICKLY HEAT can be soothed by what comes in a different style of can. Shaker top, 25 cents. Nice odor. Good for babies, too. Healing.

SPECIAL BLUING for silk and wool is much better than ordinary kind. 15 cents a package. Teaspoonful to gallon of water. Keeps delicate flannels, etc., from becoming yellow. Easy to use. No streaking. Wash silk dresses stay white longer.

DON'T ROLL YOUR OWN stockings. Buy the kind that come just to knee, with little cuff. All lovely colors. $1.00 a pair. Fibre silk. Well known brand. Finely woven. Cool for hot days. Good also for bathing.

BATHING SLIPPERS come in several styles. Satiny looking. Blue, black, black and white check, green, purple, red. Rubber soles. Stylish. Some high, with cuff. Others cut-out, sandal type. 95 cents a pair. Match them with your cap.

WHEN CURLING HAIR you often burn neck or forehead. A special cream which instantly relieve pain. Stimulates healing. $1.00 a tube. Made by one of the best firms.

LEMONADE tastes better if poured from a cut and engraved glass pitcher, which has pretty cover. 6 glasses to match. Dainty shape. Complete, $2.98. Use glass straws, with colored bowls. Nice for any kind of punch on a hot evening.

MILDEW STAINS can be removed. Easily. We'll tell you how to make a solution. And other treatment. Inexpensive.

Our Latchstring is Always Out for Visitors to Boston

IN PIONEER DAYS houses were made with massive wooden doors that fastened with a heavy latch of iron or wood on the inside. Once closed, the door could not be opened from the hostile outside unless the latchstring was left dangling through the hole provided. When "friends" approached it was the custom to leave the latchstring out as a sign of unbuckled hospitality.

Guests Always Welcome Here

All visitors to this city are cordially invited to make use of the service and conveniences this great store provides for its customers—and that without pause or thought of whether they are buying anything or not. We believe that they will find only cheerful, friendly, helpful courtesy among all our thousands of Fellow Workers. This is the Jordan Marsh spirit and its restful, homelike atmosphere pervades the whole store.

SERVICES FOR CALVIN COOLIDGE, JR., AT WHITE HOUSE TODAY

BODY TO LEAVE WASHINGTON FOR NORTHAMPTON AT 9

the body will not formally lie in state, although intimate friends will be permitted to pay their last respects.

The ceremonies at the White House this afternoon are not expected to consume more than an hour, between 3 and 4 o'clock, arrangements will be made for the train journey to Northampton. The Presidential funeral party will leave the capital at 9 p. m., via the Pennsylvania Railroad, and is due in Northampton about 8 o'clock in the morning.

Besides the President and Mrs. Coolidge and their son, John, the party will include such members of the Cabinet as desire to accompany the body. J. Butler Wright, the acting Secretary of State, Colonel C. E. Sherrill, the President's chief military aide; Captain Adolphus Andrews, the chief naval aide; Commander Joel T. Boone and Major James F. Connal of Boston, the White House physician, who directed the fight to save young Calvin's life; Rev. Dr. Jason Noble Pierce, the President's pastor, Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Stearns of Boston, intimate friends of the Coolidge family; C. Bascom Slemp, the White House secretary, and Edward B. Clark, the President's private secretary, in addition to Secret Service operatives and newspapermen.

MARINE ESCORT.

There will also be a squad of marines under the command of Lieutenant Edgar Allen Poe and a bugler from the Marine Band to sound taps over the grave tomorrow afternoon at Plymouth.

The funeral services at Northampton tomorrow will be held at 10 a. m. at the Edwards Congregational Church in charge of Rev. Kenneth Welles, Calvin's friend and pastor.

The party will then continue by train to Ludlow, Vt., where automobiles will be waiting to continue the journey to Plymouth, home of the President's father and the boy's grandfather. Here young Calvin will finally be laid to rest.

Arrangements have been made by Secretary Weeks to have the roads from Ludlow to Plymouth policed by infantrymen and mounted troops from Fort Ethan Allen, at Burlington, Vt. The soldiers will constitute a mounted military police squad to keep the road clear of all traffic for the funeral party.

After the interment at Plymouth Cemetery, President and Mrs. Coolidge will return to Washington by train.

Northampton Awaits Funeral Services

Northampton, July 9.—This city prepared today to join with President and Mrs. Calvin Coolidge in the funeral services among his home town folk for Calvin Coolidge, Jr.

The body of the boy who had grown up among them will be brought here tomorrow, and all business will stop for two hours in the forenoon covering the period in which the funeral train will pause here for services at the Edwards Congregational Church on the way from Washington to Plymouth, Vt., for burial.

These services will be simple, as requested by President Coolidge, and Acting Mayor Richard E. Pierce, in a formal proclamation calling for suspension of business in tribute to his memory, urged that the President's desires for simplicity be carried out in every detail. As a result, the half-staffing of flags was the only outward demonstration of the city's grief, plans for memorial decorations having been abandoned in deference to the President's wish.

Above is the Edwards Congregational Church at Northampton where the funeral for Calvin Coolidge, Jr., the President's son, will take place tomorrow upon the arrival of the body from Washington. Upper right insert is Rev. Kenneth B. Welles, pastor, who will conduct the ceremonies, and at the left is shown the dead boy.

At the church, where young Calvin was a member of the Sunday school and of the Boy Scouts troop, Rev. Kenneth B. Welles, the pastor, will officiate. The body will be escorted from the train by fifty members of the State Constabulary. The funeral party will include, besides those who accompany the mourning President and Mrs. Coolidge from Washington, several score of friends.

Grandmother Goodhue, who has been receiving the condolences of friends at the Coolidge home, will join the parents of the boy for the services here.

Dr. W. M. Irvine, headmaster of Mercersburg Academy, where Calvin, Jr., spent the past three school years, with Mrs. Irvine, also will attend the services here. Dr. Irvine has said that the boy showed an exceptionally fine sense of balance, was on the honor roll for the entire three years in school and "was sure to have made his mark in the world had he lived."

Escort Ordered for Funeral

Camp Devens, July 9.—Orders were received here from the War Department that eighty-six men from the Fifth Infantry, U. S. A., be sent to Northampton to meet the body of Calvin Coolidge, Jr., and escort it to the burial place in Plymouth, Vt.

Accordingly, the men in charge of Captain Penny P. Coffin have been dispatched to the place designated.

King George Sends His Condolences

London, July 9 (2 A. M.).—King George sent a message of condolence to President Coolidge because of the death of Calvin Coolidge, Jr. The British monarch said in his cable grams:

"The Queen and I have heard with most sincere regret of the grievous loss which has befallen you and Mrs. Coolidge in the death of your dear son and we assure you both of our heartfelt sympathy in this time of your deep sorrow."

Septic Poisoning Need Not Alarm Parents

Washington, July 9.—Public health physicians feel parents need not become unnecessarily alarmed because of the death of Calvin Coolidge, Jr., from poisoning caused by an apparently trivial blister on the foot.

Septic poisoning, which was the first diagnosis of Calvin Coolidge, Jr.'s trouble, is the ravaging of a vegetable germ in the blood admitted through the break in the skin. The germ has been isolated, but the vaccine does not always save the patient.

Osteomyelitis, which was found to have developed in the Coolidge boy's left leg—the blister having formed on the right foot—may result physicians explained, from a bad tooth or tonsil, as well as from an abrasion, the only thing necessary being for the germs to get into the blood. They might settle, it was said, in the skin, in the surface, the marrow or the solid of the bone.

It was pointed out that there is no

Schoolmaster Lauds Calvin, Jr., as Student

New Castle, N. H., July 9 (Special).—His instructor in the [illegible] Academy, Pa., his "mother," and the guide which the faculty of the institution held for Calvin Coolidge, Jr., were told here today by W. M. Irvine, headmaster of the Pennsylvania school, where was distributed to the dead boy for the past three years.

Referring to the son of the President as one of the best pupils in the school he [illegible] said: "He was very smart and thorough and was on the honor roll at Mercersburg for three years. During his second year at the school he was leader of his class in studies."

VISITING ELKS FIND BOSTON HOSPITALITY KNOWS NO LIMIT

WHO'S WHO AND WHO'S HERE AMONG VISITING ELKS

AFTER several years' absence, Kenneth P. Murphy is spending the greater part of his time renewing old acquaintances. He is a delegate from Tulsa, Oklahoma.

From the "heart of the wheat belt" to the "Hub of the Universe," proudly stated W. A. Sweetman of Salina, Kansas. Mr. Sweetman likes Boston very much.

Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Mickelson of Santa Barbara, California, think that Boston has the finest streets because they are so very narrow.

A great many summer residents of Nantucket will surely remember "Bob" Pearson, who, a few years ago, brought over from New York the famous Lafayette K. of C. base ball team to play the Islanders. He brought some this time Mr. "Bob."

The Woolfs are in town. Not the famous Texas fighter Wolfs with the Texas delegation, but the equally well known Woolf family of Baltimore. There's Hamilton E., Sidney E., Mr. and Mrs. Louis, Leonard and Helen Woolf.

"Bostonians are the most hospitable people I have ever met," declared Jacob Leichtag, past exalted ruler of Jacksonville, Fla.

"We thought Western hospitality was supreme but Boston beautifully has got it beaten," said Mrs. F. O. Helland and Mrs. A. C. Willard, of Everett, Washington.

"Have you ever been in Cincinnati?" If so, you surely have met Frank Kreppner, steward at the Elks' Home. He is stopping at the Brunswick and will be glad to renew old friendships.

W. C. Tilson of St. Cloud, Knoxville, Pennsylvania, or "The Shrimp," is one of a number who having attained notoriety as a result of visiting the Traveling Elks, the official organ of the Elks order.

Have you seen the man with the female mind and low voice who's playing that famous tune, "Over Ley I Am"? The one and only is no other than Mr. E. S. Kelly of Corydon, Mississippi.

Amazement at the turnout, crowded streets of Boston filled Delegates R. R. Schutte and G. W. Preston, two pilgrims from El Reno, Oklahoma. Used to the broad open spaces, both were continually fighting for elbow room.

While commenting on his brother Elks were proceeding to the North Station, P. H. Holt of Du Bois, Pa., sat back in an automobile and said: "After such a cold and rainy season as home," he said, "it feels good to run into a little hot weather."

Brother P. E. Thomas of Chelsea had a pleasant surprise when he ran into Harry A. Barker of Burlington, Vt., and Charles C. Nichols of Nashua, N. H. The last time these three met was at the convention in Atlanta.

Delegate J. E. Marlow of Wichita Falls, Texas, attributed no little attention because of his great size. He is six feet three inches in height and weighs 260 pounds.

Dr. W. H. Boone of Lonoke would ably the object Paul Revere had in Mrs. England as one of the newest delegates to the convention, in spite of his seventy-nine years.

John B. Hynes of the Roosters delegation, who published the Hotel and Club Journal in New York, admits that he has more Elk badges and medals than any other newspaper man.

The leader of the Atlanta Georgia band, Mike Greenblatt, has brought his wife and baby with him to escape the heat and real fun of Boston during convention days.

The best lodge secretary in the world, if you want to know, is R. C. Broils. He has the reputation of being the most efficient worker, even outside of Atlanta, which is his home town and lodge.

J. Cook, caravan of the Atlanta patrol, is a captain of industry in the railroad business when not occupied with the affairs of the Elks.

H. M. Hunt leads the Tampa delegation of three. "What we lack in numbers we make up in enthusiasm," Mr. Hunt says.

W. A. Joughin of Tampa, Fla., is enthusiastic about Boston. And he marvels at the ingenuity of the traffic officers who keep the cars moving around Boston's street corners.

Green Bay Wisconsin, sent a lone delegate, A. J. Geniese, who is the Exalted Ruler.

From far-off Honolulu, Daniel Deputy W. L. Fraser, his wife and sister, Lilian, arrived with Julius Asch to represent "Burnside."

Brother Buchanon of Dallas paused in the midst of his "rarin to go" long enough to say: "Boston will always stand out in our memory for all that has been claimed for it."

C. P. Edwards, head of the Battle Patrol of Michigan, will be a contender for high honors in the big parade. His "outfit" is beyond question the handsomest yet seen in the convention.

If there ever is a beauty contest for little girls, Miss Pricilla Davis of Dallas, Texas, will walk away with the nomination. So Mayor Curley said. She presented a baby wolf, from the plains of Texas to the City of Boston.

"Three cheers for Woodrow, Pa.," chanted twenty-two-month-old Miss Louise Hall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence H. Hall as she proudly stepped up the steps of the Registration building.

Clement C. Smith and his wife of Pottstown, Pa., are in town.

"Bet your life we are keeping cool," said George Bernina, a veteran of Elks conventions, who hails from Jersey City, N. J. "We are stopping at Pemberton and it certainly is a fine cool spot."

In full cowboy regalia, J. E. Humphreys of Pasadena, California, created much attention wherever he put in an appearance.

T. F. Shea and "Mick" Boyle from the Canal Zone (Balboa) are two of the "whole babies" that are having a good time while attending the convention. They were dressed all in white from the top of their heads to the soles of their feet.

Two members of the Jolly Corks Club of New York, which organized the B. P. O. E. in 1867, are here. They are Joseph M. Norcross of Philadelphia and Harry J. Armstrong of Chicago. Both are sticking out "old timers," and are enjoying the prominence which their long record as Elks gives them.

Wm. E. Feisel, who hails from Dallas, Texas, is the youngest delegate. And the weight. "I weigh 'nuthin walking wet, inside and out, and I'm here with about with hands, and am the best ten pounder in the world," he modestly said.

"Those heah cobblestones shore do remind us of Texas," says Peggy Howes. "It makes us right homesick, because they're so much like the Texas roads."

Charles Nast of the Denver Lodge is a regular old Westerner. "I'm a regular Indian now," he said. "Fourth with Custer way back in '75, and I was a great pal of Wild Bill Hickok. Yessir, I was with him when he was slain."

A. G. Merritt of Houston, Me., potato king, and Dr. T. S. Dickinson are heard telling about their 1000-pound potatoes and onions. It is the most northerly lodge in the eastern part of the United States.

Arthur C. Campbell of Norwich, Conn., former minstrel is entertaining in his hotel room much to the amusement of his many friends.

A. Macgibbon, the only delegate from Bellingham, Wash., is one of the old pioneers from that part of the country. He is still superintendent of the postal mail.

Dr. C. W. Clark of Pomona, Calif., is acknowledged to be the handsom est man from his town and says so.

He got his good looks from being born in New Hampshire.

Prominent among the arrivals from New Orleans are Lewis K. Gaillard, with his wife and Mrs. L. E. Gaillard, and Miss A. Vexon, a prominent educational woman of that city.

E. E. Hillegas, whose name is still found on the $10 certificate. "He looks very much like me," exclaimed the present Hillegas.

"I think that Boston has done a great deal. Its time," said H. L. Jefferson, assessor of Indianapolis.

William Coakley, hailing from New York, says the Boston stores are especially courteous.

Bart McHugh of Philadelphia, has eyes that twinkle irrepressibly behind gold rimmed glasses. Helping Mr. McHugh entertain are the Misses Marie and Peggy Murphy.

ZOUAVES WIN ELKS DRILL AT BRAVES FIELD

10,000 Spectators See Jackson Lodge of Michigan Get Prize

Ten thousand spectators at Braves Field witnessed the Elks drill team contest, which was won by Jackson Lodge, Michigan, No. 113. Fourteen drill teams competed.

The Michigan team is known as the Sparks Worthington Zouaves. The outfit is commanded by Captain William Sparks. The prize was a silver loving cup, valued at $500.

Second prize, a $250 silver loving cup, was awarded the "Purple Devils" of Atlanta, Ga. Lodge, No. 78, Captain Joseph B. Cooke. Third prize, a $100 silver loving cup, went to Buffalo Lodge No. 23.

Lieut. Col. Alexander Greig, Jr., of the Coast Artillery Corps, was chairman of the judges.

One thousand delegates and their friends from Ohio gave a demonstration from the grandstand in behalf of Toledo Lodge No. 53. The cheering section of 1000 was led by Arthur Burkett, of Columbus, Ohio, lodge.

Later the Ohio delegation tendered a reception at the Copley Plaza Hotel to J. G. Price of Columbus, the newly-elected grand exalted ruler of the Elks. George J. Deubach of Sandusky, Ohio, Lodge, was chairman of the reception committee.

WOLF GIVEN CURLEY BY ELKS FROM TEXAS

A nine-year-old wolf cub, ago on the plains of Texas, was brought to town by the Dallas delegation and presented to the City of Boston at Boston Common by R. G. Tobin, exalted ruler of the Dallas lodge. Brother Tobin, in making the presentation speech, declared that his party was happy they came, as far as they did, for they have been well repaid by Lucille Dodge of Dallas hand of the wolf to Mayor Curley.

ELKS DENOUNCE ANTI-AMERICANISM IN U. S.

pose the organization of establishment of a social and community movement in the Elks which would be in keeping with the tradition of the order.

The committee that made the Social and Community Welfare report consisted of Col. John P. Sullivan, chairman, New Orleans, La.; Harry Hubbard, New York, N. Y.; Judge William H. Atwell, Dallas, Tex.; Lloyd H. Maxwell, Chicago, Ill., and Robert E. Evans, Tacoma, Wash.

LODGE ACTIVITIES.

The report dealt with the activities of Elks subordinate lodges in this connection throughout the country. It showed that one order entered every social and community activity and that the subordinate lodges have become important civic centers in their respective communities.

The report says that the subordinate lodges of Elks promote Americanization education, flag day exercises, give awards in compliance with prize essay contests in public schools, support and encouragement of the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and Big Brother movements, war veteran relief, Thanksgiving and Christmas charities, hospital work, medical aid to the poor, Summer recreation camps, parks, playgrounds and swimming pools, outings for poor mothers and children and general athletics.

The Elks spent $3,000,000 in charity work alone last year. The report stresses the need of intensive campaigning in Americanization and devotes special sections to education and the conservation of mother and baby life.

The 60th session of the Grand Lodge in Boston breathed with energy and brotherly love. Its fine spirit was the keynote of the session and will write upon the sands their sentiments upon the tablets of love and memory "that never more grow silently and unemployed."

"There is no problem on this memorable 60th report, the world of Elkdom can address itself with more serious consideration, with greater concern, than the question of Americanization. It offers us fertile field for useful labor along the lines of constructive citizenship and nation building.

"Your committee calls upon the National Order of Elks to make an intensive, constant and militant crusade on Americanism to awaken the people to the real danger that confront this country."

The report takes up the fourteen outstanding activities of community welfare with particular reference to charitable work. Valley City, N. D., and Jerome, Arizona, Lodge with fourteen activities led all lodges in the country in the scope of social and community welfare work.

CHRISTMAS CHARITIES.

"Of the total $1,253,71608 spent by the 1,088 lodge for charitable work, $751,729.99 was spent on Christmas charities and $501,41184 for Thanksgiving charities. In connection with Thanksgiving day activities 9,296 families were aided and 12,118 baskets of food distributed. On Christmas, 112,495 families were furnished food, fuel and clothing and 389,063 children were given a real Christmas.

"In various times of great stress in this country's affairs the order has been turned to as an instrumentality through which relief might be secured and there never was a time when it failed to record a victorious fulfillment of the desired mission. This was most strongly illustrated during the trying times of the World War when the institution were threatened from without and it was providential that there was at that time active in the order men who were not only able but willing to give the necessary time and make the consequent sacrifices essential to a proper administration of the orders' real purpose.

"Let us carry home from this reunion a message of cheer and encouragement to the officers of the various subordinate lodges and by our presence at the meetings and various lodge functions assure them of our deep appreciation of their labors in our behalf."

25,000 ON OUTING.

The Nantasket Day Committee, of which Michael W. O'Brien is chairman, plan on handling between 20,000 and 25,000 at this feature of the day's program. Steamers left Rowes Wharf hourly from 9:15 to 2:15 and will return hourly up to midnight.

A shore dinner was served. All sorts of shore diversions have been arranged, including bathing and dancing. Paragon Park, three miles down the shore, will be open to the visitors. The Paragon Park ballroom will be used for dancing. There will be a special display of fireworks and the Elks' eleven o'clock toast.

Golf enthusiasts hastened to take part in the Elks' tournament on the municipal links at Franklin Park. There is to be a power boat parade at 6:30 p. m. Tonight all yacht clubs will hold open house. It was distinctly an outdoor day program. There are to be band concerts on Boston Common. At 8 p. m. there will be special initiations by Philadelphia Lodge officers at Tremont Temple.

Everyone is praying for favorable weather for the monster Elks' pageant, the stellar feature of convention week, on Thursday. All details have been completed.

Between 10,000 and 15,000 Elks will be entertained at a big fireworks program, beginning at 8:15 o'clock, at Braves' Field tomorrow night. Grand Exalted Ruler Price is expected to be present and city officials have been invited.

ELKS FROM DIXIE FOND OF ICE CREAM

If there is one thing more than another that the delegates from the South have shown a particular fondness for it is the Elks' ice cream as served in the Elks' lunch room in the basement of the registration building, No. 523 Boylston street, and presided over by Ethel F. Kiley.

Although the Southerners hail from a climate proverbially hotter than anything supposedly found in New England, men from Dixie have got the Yankees beaten when it comes to eating ice cream.

PORTLAND DRUM CORPS IN SERENADE OF THANKS

Visiting "Hello, Bills," from Far West march to new home of Boston American in Winthrop square and distribute harmony in appreciation of this newspaper's assistance to Elks on convention. Snappy group in bright military garb has done much, under command of Captain Charles Starr, in winning Portland the honor of being the place of the next convention.

OREGON ELKS PLAY FOR THE AMERICAN

Where the Elks' Parade Passes Tomorrow

The Elks' parade tomorrow afternoon leaves Commonwealth avenue and Arlington street at 3:30. It will pass other points as follows:

Arlington and Beacon, 3:33.
Beacon and Charles, 3:36.
State House, 3:43.
Park and Tremont, 3:47.
Tremont and Temple place, 3:50.
Tremont and West, 3:51.
Tremont and Avery, 3:54.
Tremont and Boylston, 3:55.
Park square, 3:58.
St. James avenue reviewing stand, 4:05.
St. James avenue and Berkeley street, 4:07.
St. James avenue and Clarendon street, 4:09.
Disbands at Dartmouth street near Public Library, 4:12.

WHERE ELKS MARCH TOMORROW

AMERICAN IS SERENADED BY OREGON ELKS

The Portland, Ore., Bugle and Drum Corps serenaded the American Brilliantly bedecked in their smart military uniforms, the corps invaded Winthrop square.

The visit was the expression of thanks on the part of the Oregon Elks for the hospitality and services given by the Boston American to the visiting Elks.

The organization is under command of Captain Charles Starr, and the snappy corps has been such a big factor in boosting Portland that next year's national convention of the Elks will be held in that city.

NOYES KNOWS HIS WAY ABOUT BOSTON

Chairman John H. L. Noyes of the street commission was standing at the corner of Washington and Winter streets, when he was approached by a visiting Elk, wearing a New Jersey hat band.

J. H. L. Noyes

"Say," said the man from New Jersey, "do you know anything about the streets of this here town? I'm trying to find the American House and I have asked four different persons and have tried to follow directions, only to come back to this same spot. This town has got more crooked streets than any town I have ever been in.

Chairman Noyes, not disclosing his identity volunteered to escort him and told the Elk that he thought that he had a fairly good knowledge of the streets of the Hub.

PHILADELPHIA ELK KICKED BY HORSE

Charles Devere, forty years old, of No. 24 Euclid avenue, Philadelphia, while taking part in the Elks military maneuvers on the Common was thrown from his horse and the animal took a parting kick at the rider as he fell. Devere was removed to the Relief Hospital and treated for cuts and bruises.

ILLINOIS ELKS HONOR CAMPBELL

Bruce A. Campbell, past grand exalted ruler of East St. Louis, Ill., tendered a reception at the Copley Plaza Hotel by the State Elks Association of Illinois. A delightful musical program was rendered. Mr. Campbell is one of the most popular and best beloved Elks and has long been a familiar figure at the grand lodges reunions all over the country.

10,000 RECORDS OF ELKS' TOAST SOLD

More than 10,000 victrola records containing Mayor Curley's speech of welcome to the Elks and the 11 o'clock toast have been sold up to date.

The revenue derived from the sale of the first 25,000 will be turned over to the Elks Charity Fund by the mayor.

Among the big business men here from Philadelphia are Frank Buhler and Max Blumberg.

Of especial interest to Boston is Colonel E. M. Bartlett, formerly a Boston man.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Reamer of St. Paul, Minn., are registered at the Touraine.

WHO'S WHO AND WHO'S HERE AMONG VISITING ELKS

Dressed in their finest and out to capture a prize for the best-looking Elk unit in the parade, 600 Providence Elks are coming to Boston to take part in the big parade tomorrow.

An elaborate float drawn by snow-white horses obtained in Boston will constitute the third section of the parade, representing Roger Williams' first meeting with the Narragansett Indians.

John E. Norris, seventy-nine years old, now of Ridgefield Park, N. J., but originally of Providence, who claims to be the sole survivor of the original antecedents of the Elks, is in Boston.

Mrs. Mary O'Brien was the first of the Elks to suffer an accident in Boston. While walking on Tremont street, a flagpole fell from the window of a department store and hit her, a large sliver from the pole pinning her hat to her cheek.

George H. England of Los Angeles, with his wife started traveling in 1920 and haven't gotten home as yet. He is widely known as a big game hunter.

A ten gallon hat of the old school will be a feature of tomorrow's parade. It will adorn the dome of Brother Frank Bell of Cheyenne.

Lodge No. 24 of Rochester brings its own trained nurse, and is armed against every emergency, even snakebite. She is the wife of Dr. F. H. Brown.

A golden rule police captain is Arthur G. Barry, prominent among the delegates from Rochester. He is honored as much for his unfortunates he has helped as for the "pinches" he has made.

Another Rochesterite is Julius Friedrichs of the Rochester Willis Corporation, a loyal and self sacrificing leader of crippled children.

F. H. Evarts is the cut-up of the crowd from Glendale, Calif. In Glendale he is a wholesale jeweler.

From Albany, Ga., comes the prize practical joker of the convention. He is Charles H. Wright.

B. B. Ellis of Idaho—there's something in the way of alliteration for you. B. B. is here with Harry Fox of Yellowstone Park, a big assembly for the Boston Zoo with three young elk.

Boys from the Blue Grass country are notorious for their loyalty to "old Kaintuck." Take Jim Dellig of Louisville. "Yes, Boston's all right," he admits. "But once you ever down in Louisville?"

The smallest two-gun man in the world is at the convention. He is Fred Grimes, Jr., son of Fred Grimes of Dallas, Tex. He's only allowed to wear his hardware during practise shooting. He can snuff a candle at thirty paces.

All the way from Winslow, Ariz., Al Buchanan finds traffic in Boston streets swift and confusing.

The lads "up Iveah" don't seem to know how to distill the real stuff as they do in Dixie, according to Jonathan Murphy of Knoxville, Tenn.

Lewis Goldsmith is in charge of the Philadelphia party. A tall, well-built man, with dark hair slightly tinged with gray, he lounges around in white knickers and dark coat.

Percy Ellis sustained the handsomest Elk in Philadelphia is head of the Mounted Guards.

'BILL' SINEK IS BUSY BOSS OF CHICAGO ELKS

Busy Bill Sinek's in town with the Chicago delegation to the Elks' convention.

"Don't know Bill" Horrors! William J. Sinek is as much Chicago as was "Hinky Dink" Kenna or John of "Bathhouse" fame, but in other than political lines of endeavor.

"Bill" Sinek.

Sinek was elected exalted ruler of Chicago Lodge, B. P. O. E., four times running. Bill's title in the "high chair" made lodge history in North Elkdom. He's strong for Boston. Says this old town is hitting on all twelve in its hospitality energy.

But "Bill" Sinek is best known throughout the country for his work as a leader of Elks in fighting for stricter enforcement of Federal and State drug laws. Personally he financed a "run" for an addicts in order to help brothers that unfortunate slaves of narcotics could be reclaimed. He appeared before congressional committees and had much to do with the enactment of more stringent anti-narcotic legislation.

Sinek vows that the famous Elks' Band from Chicago is sure to win the competition for B. P. O. E. bands which will be staged as a feature of the convention. The Chicago delegation is quartered at the Copley Plaza. Four hundred Windy City marchers will march in Thursday's big parade.

Two additional facts about "Bill" Sinek:

He's a bachelor. He wants another Elks' convention in his home city in 1926.

STAYING HOME FROM WORK MEANS MONEY LOST

Many Women Know This by Experience

Let Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Help You As It Helped These Women

Mrs. McDole's Experience

Ludington, Mich. — "I suffered every month and was very irregular, had headaches all the time, was thin and pale, with no appetite. I had taken all kinds of medicines, and every doctor told me I would have to face an operation before I would be well again. I was doing factory work, and I had to stay at home so much that I was getting discouraged. My mother advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I did so with good results. I am now feeling fine. I have advised all my girl friends, who have such troubles as I had, to take your wonderful medicine." — Mrs. THERESSA MCDOLE, 426 S. Rath Ave., Ludington, Mich.

Los Angeles, California. — "I was in such a condition that I was scarcely able to walk, even to do my housework. I had no energy, was depressed and often wished to die. I am a chef, but was totally unable to do any cooking. A friend recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I have taken it with success. After the fourth bottle I felt much better, and after the tenth never felt better in my life, as it resulted in a complete recovery. I certainly recommend it to all I hear complaining and you can use this letter as a testimonial." — Mrs. MARY SULLIVAN, 928 E. 80th Street, Los Angeles, California.

Greatly Relieved

Jersey City, N. J. — "I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for cramps and fainting spells. I do office work, and have been in this condition four or five years, having to stay at home from work a day or two at a time, quite frequently. I have taken about ten bottles of it, and have been greatly relieved. I recommend it myself and you may print these facts with my full address." — LOUISE SCHONFELDER, 112 Woodlawn Ave., Jersey City, N. J.

No matter what your work is, a great deal depends upon your health. It is discouraging to be obliged to stay at home frequently on account of sickness.

Your trouble may be caused by some female weakness, and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has brought relief to many women just as these letters state. For sale by druggists everywhere.

A recent canvass reports 98 out of every 100 women are benefited by

Soldier Fiance Fatally Injured While Crossing Tracks Near Lynn

A Lynn girl was instantly killed and a soldier from Fort Banks, Winthrop, fatally injured when they were struck by a Nahant bound trolley car, 100 yards from the State Bath House at Nahant.

The girl was Miss Mae MacNeil, aged 21, of No. 29 West Baltimore street, Lynn, was decapitated by the car, which severed one of her arms at the shoulder.

The escort of the girl, William S. Griffin, was tossed to the side of the tracks. He sustained a fractured skull and is dying at the Lynn Hospital. The soldier was to have been married to Miss MacNeil on July 16.

Autos Kill Boy and girl on Streets

A boy and a girl, each five years old, are dead, and a seven-year-old boy is dying, the latest victims of automobiles on the streets of Greater Boston.

Elvira V. Jenkins of No. 249A Summer street, Somerville, was run down in the street, near her home, and died a short time later at the Somerville Hospital.

Frederick Reid of No. 66 Pearl street, Woburn, died at the Choate Memorial Hospital a short time after he was run down near his home by a car driven by a woman, Mrs. Grace Macurda of State road, Burlington. Following the death of the boy, Mrs. Macurda was arrested on the technical charge of manslaughter and was later released on bail of $1,000.

The Jenkins girl was run down by an automobile driven by Frank La Pointe of No. 3 Linden avenue, Somerville.

The girl was struck down almost in front of her own home. Mrs. Carrie Smith of No. 253 Summer street picked up the child and with the father, Allen Jenkins, and La Pointe took her to the Somerville Hospital, where she died a short time later.

The girl was the oldest of three children and a great favorite in the neighborhood. La Pointe told the police he was driving along the street and that the child suddenly appeared in front of the machine. There was another automobile standing at the curbing near where the child came from. La Pointe was not detained.

ANGUS ACTS AS OWN LAWYER; FINED $20

"I'll be my own lawyer," said Angus McMillan of No. 330 Summer street extension, Arlington, when he was arraigned in East Cambridge Court charged with being drunk.

"Go ahead with your defence," said the judge.

"I merely wish to say that the complainant here has all the earmarks of a Nova Scotian horse trader," the defendant began, waving his arms. He was cut off, being informed that was no evidence. A closer inspection disclosed that he was still drunk.

In court today he appeared for sentence and was fined $20.

BAUER SLAYER IS SEEKING NEW TRIAL

New York, July 9 [N.Y.S.]—Harry L. Hoffman, motion picture operator, recently found guilty of second degree murder in the death of Mrs. Maude A. Bauer, of Port Richmond, Staten Island, is planning a legal battle to reverse his twenty-year sentence in Sing Sing, it was learned today.

An appeal has been filed in Hoffman's behalf with the clerk of Richmond County by attorneys employed by the Motion Picture Operators' Union. Hoffman is a member of the union.

BANDITS ROB TRUCK OF $18,000 IN SILK

Trenton, N. J., July 8.—A motor truck with thirty-seven cases of silk valued at $18,000, was stolen by bandits in two automobiles, who attacked the truck on the Brunswick pike, between Clarksville Inn and Penns Neck. Leslie Hoffman of Philadelphia, driver of the truck, was blindfolded, gagged and bound and driven about the countryside for more than an hour before being tossed into some woods.

PULMOTOR SAVES GAS VICTIM'S LIFE

The prompt action of police of Station 11, Dorchester, probably saved the life of John H. Fuhrman, thirty years old, of No. 289 Seaver St., Dorchester, when he was overcome by gas. Fuhrman, who is single, was found sitting unconscious in a chair in the kitchen of

Missionary Will Use Plane to Cover African Post

New York, July 9.—For the first time in the history of missionary activities in Africa, an airplane will be used by a missionary in covering his territory, it was announced today.

The missionary is Dr. E. A. Late, who, with his wife and son, sails today on the Aquitania for his post in Liberia.

The Lutheran Foreign Mission Board of Baltimore, which is sending Dr. Late abroad, will send the airplane at an early date.

ONE SLAIN AND BOMB HURLED IN NIAGARA

Cafe Owner Victim of Robbers, Minister's House Attacked in Wave of Crime

Niagara Falls, N. Y., July 9.—One man was murdered, another was shot and seriously wounded and an alleged attempt was made to bomb the home of a minister in a series of depredations here today.

The murdered man was Patrick G. Burke, proprietor of a soft drink place. He was killed by bullets fired from an automobile containing four men in front of his home.

Floyd Ault, twenty-four years old, of Akron, O., an immigration inspector appointed a North Tonawanda force about ten days ago, was shot and probably fatally wounded while patrolling the upper river bank for alien smugglers just after midnight. Police believe rum-runners are responsible for the attack. A gang of men in an automobile drew up to the home of the Rev. W. C. Crofts, a Presbyterian minister, and one of the men is alleged to have thrown a supposed bomb at the house. Rev. Mr. Crofts has been active in behalf of the "drys."

CHICKIE LOVED. NOW SHE PAID

By ELENORE MEHERIN

"WELL—I'm just writing this, Chickie, because I felt you ought to know and perhaps you don't hear from him, though you have his heart. You always did. Remember how he loved the points on your fingernails and made such fun of mine?

"Well—Chickie, don't think me a blundering fool, but you are nearer than a sister to me and if you could—well—why don't you—why don't you go with Jimmy? Something sweet should come to you and Jimmy in that, Chickie. There is a greatness in him—truly.

"If this hurts you have to forgive it—but it seems that I or mother should say it. You are dear to us."

Mary's letter seemed a sacred thing. Chickie's eyes blinded, reading it. Glorious Martha Blake would even be willing that she should have Jimmy. And he was the idol of her noble life.

Thinking of this Chickie could raise her head—she could

AGED WOMAN RECLUSE IS MISSING

Parents of Aiken Baby Are Reconciled in Court

REUNITED BY GRIEF OVER GIRL

Husband Forgives Erring Wife and Seeks Bail to Set Her at Liberty

Woonsocket, R. I., July 9.—Out of their mutual grief at the death of their baby daughter there came today a reconciliation of the warring heads of the divided house of Aiken.

When Mrs. Viola Mitchell Aiken was arraigned in District Court, her husband, formerly estranged, stood at her side and murmured words of encouragement.

When Judge Myette dismissed the charge against her, growing out of her alleged relations with James Graham, tenant farmer, Aiken congratulated her and she cried. There was a reunion in the courtroom and promises of better understanding on both sides.

GRAHAM NOT IN COURT.

Five hundred spectators were gathered in and around the courtroom when the case was called. To them Mrs. Aiken gave only a passing glance. Her tears she kept for the rather pathetic little family reunion.

Graham, for whom Mrs. Aiken kept house, and with whom she was named in the statutory complaint, was not in court for disposition of his case. He will be tomorrow.

When the complaint against the woman was dismissed she was remanded to the Providence County Jail at Providence, where she is held in $1,000 bail as a material witness in the death of her baby daughter, Viola, whose body was found in a swamp in North Smithfield about a week ago.

"I'll try to get the bail," said Aiken, reassuringly, as his wife was led away. Making good his promise, he immediately set out to canvass his friends for surety.

Viola Aiken, three years old, disappeared on May 24 from the farm where the mother was employed as housekeeper.

CONVINCED OF MURDER.

When the body was found the skull fell apart in such a manner as to arouse the suspicion of foul play.

An autopsy was performed. The result has not been made public. But Attorney-General Carpenter has this to say of the case: "I am convinced that Viola was murdered. I have received no official report on the autopsy, but preliminary reports indicate a murder.

"There is no direct evidence yet. I believe that by September we will be able to construct a murder case against some person or persons. In the meantime I do not intend to risk the non-appearance of important witnesses."

In Superior Court today Graham was held in $1,500 as a material witness in "a certain case," the law's roundabout way of saying the Baby Aiken case.

FIGHT BIG WOOD FIRE IN MAINE

Blaze Near Bangor Gets Beyond the Ability of 700 Men; Other Fires Held in Check

Bangor, July 9.—The forest fire on the Masardis stream, back of Portage, was reported today to be beyond the control of a crew of 700 fire-fighters, according to information received here by the Bangor & Aroostook Railroad. The fire is rapidly spreading.

According to the railroad officials, the town of Masardis is not threatened at present. The fire is more than fifteen miles away and must leap several streams before reaching the buildings in Masardis. The fire at Hanford siding has been brought under control by the crew of two hundred men.

Chief Fire Warden Charles E. Weeks today estimated that the Garfield plantation fire, five miles west of Masardis, had already burned through from 20,000 to 40,000 acres.

While there was practically no wind during the morning hours, Warden Weeks feared it would blow during the day, reviving this and other fires in Aroostook County. He has a big crew of men fighting this fire.

The Stockholm and Three Brooks lookout station reported no new fires had been observed or reported. All others were reported well under control, including that at Castle Hill.

All freight trains on the Bangor & Aroostook Railroad are being run at night to lessen the danger of setting new fires from sparks. There has been no rain in this fire zone for weeks.

COWBOYS BRING HOME BRIDES FROM BRITAIN

London, July 9 (Universal Cable).—There were boisterous scenes at the Royal Albert Dock this afternoon when 140 rodeo cowboys and cowgirls embarked on the Menominee for home after concluding their part in the Wembley exhibition.

Two of the American cowboys are taking English brides home with them.

MRS. JOHN STEEL

TENOR STEEL ASKS COURT TO FREE HIM

New York, July 9.—John Steel, famous lyric tenor, has brought suit in New York Supreme Court for separation from Mrs. Steel, known on the stage as Sidonie Espero. He charges abandonment.

The complaint states that she deserted him in 1921, soon after the birth of John W. Steel, Jr.

On June 25 last Supreme Court Justice Vernon Davis dismissed a separation suit brought by Mrs. Steel, in which she charged the singer with being a drunkard and with ill treating her. She also charged him with neglecting to provide for her and their child, although she declared he received more than $160,000 yearly from his theatrical engagements and phonograph royalties. She was given $250 weekly alimony pending trial, which was continued when the charges were dismissed.

During the trial Steel denied his wife's allegations and testified that throughout their married life he had washed dishes and cooked meals.

DR. FRANK CRANE ON IMPATIENCE

By DR. FRANK CRANE

THE one quality that best marks a soldier of the ideal is patience.

Of course, he needs vision, he needs courage, he needs persistence, but all of these may easily be spoiled unless he has patience.

Rabindranath Tagore says: "The power of muscle or of money has opportunities of immediate satisfaction, but the power of an ideal must have infinite patience."

The man who enlists under the banner of the ideal shall never see victory. For an idealism there is no victory, only betterment.

Because ideals come to fruition by growth.

The God of this world is a gardener. He is not an architect.

The Idealist has become God's partner, for he has glimpsed a great truth, and every truth is a program of Deity.

God, it has been said, does not pay every Saturday night.

Hence there is no reward for the Idealist, no goal, no hour of triumph.

The only reward he can have is the joy of his efforts, the thrill of self-giving, the angels' joy of knowing that the thing he champions is eternal and cannot fail.

He does not get his satisfaction from arriving, but in traveling. His is "the pleasure of going on," as Tennyson says.

He is a member of no "army" that shall one day be victorious; there is no room in idealism for the army symbol. For an army exists for the purpose of gaining territory, destroying opponents or accomplishing some end of State; while ideals exist only for the benefit of the people who hold them. The soldiers of an army take a city, reckless of waste of life among the army's best men; the hosts of the ideal seek no city, only to make a better host.

Almost all great causes are stained by impatience.

NEW MOVE FACED BY FUNCKE

Health Authorities Due to Act on Recluse's Refusal to Quit Home

Another act in the comedy-drama over in Somerville, where Isaac Waldman is seeking to oust Frank Antone Funcke, aged recluse, from the old Funcke homestead, purchased by the former and moved to a new location, is due today, when the municipal and State health authorities are called in by Owner Waldman.

Recluse Funcke remains in the house unperturbed by lack of plumbing connections, which means no running water. While workmen "rolled" the building from its original site at No. 296 Beacon street to Eustis street, Funcke made his bed, prepared and ate his meals and carried on otherwise as usual.

The dwelling is now propped up out the entire session.

"Hub Booze Grows on Bushes," Says Elks Delegate

"I would never think Boston was part of 'Volstead dry United States,'" said Bertram Davis, a delegate from Santa Monica, Cal. "I can always get liquid refreshments back home if I try hard enough, but here it seems to grow on bushes."

SNOWDEN PREVAILS IN BUDGET BATTLE

London, July 9 (I.N.S.).—Chancellor of the Exchequer Philip Snowden today emerged victorious from an all-night battle with the Tories in the House of Commons when the first labor budget passed the committee stage.

The Tories fought to force changes into the Budget. Amendment after amendment was proposed, but Snowden opposed them all, only minor concessions being made and the chief features remaining intact.

Lady Terrington was the only woman member of Commons to stick on wooden supports in its new location. Somerville health inspectors report they will not interfere unless neighbors complain. Waldman is insistent that Funcke must leave the house.

Funcke, with shotguns resisted first attempts to move the building, but later offered no resistance.

Waldman states that friendly neighbors are supplying Funcke with water and supplies under cover of darkness.

RANDOLPH RECLUSE MISSING

Boy Scouts and Police Scour Countryside in Search for 73-Year-Old Woman

Boy Scouts, police and volunteer searchers are scouring the country-side in an effort to locate Mrs. Mary Sullivan, 73-year-old recluse, who is missing from her home on Main street, Randolph.

The return to the house of Mrs. Sullivan's constant companion, a 15-year-old coon dog, aroused the neighborhood.

Hours before the dog trotted up to the door-step alone the woman and the dog were seen walking toward Holbrook. The woman wore only a calico wrapper and the dog trotted at her side.

A number of persons in Randolph saw the woman and spoke to her as she passed by. When the dog returned alone and took up his position on the door-step neighbors were convinced the woman was the victim of some mishap.

STORM CLOUDS GATHERING OVER TWILIGHT BALL LEAGUE

FORFEIT GAME IN DISPUTE

There are rumblings just over the Twilight League horizon that may indicate a coming storm. Or the thunder in the distance may be only thunder in the distance. In that case, Twi League followers will not have to prepare for a storm.

The "cause belli" as manager Dan Leahy of the North Cambridge team might put it were he minded to do so, is this: At some time or other in the first half of the Twi season a game between, or rather among North Cambridge and Lawrence was forfeited to the latter team for some reason or other.

Now, at the time, no one looked into the crystal ball to see what complications would eventually result from such a forfeiture. But the complications did result in this: If and this is the sad story, if the game had not been forfeited to Lawrence, both North Cambridge and Lawrence would have been tied for first place in the league for the first half of the season.

North Cambridge recently protested that it was entitled to a tie for first place, and added that there was grave danger of the North Cambridge nine quitting the league if the protest was not upheld.

A grave situation confronts the Twi League now. For it is rumored that five teams will quit the league if the Cangias' protest is upheld.

Claude Davidson, president of the league, is confronted with a serious situation. However, the matter should be adjusted satisfactorily in one, both, at once or no-hit, no-run fashion.

In any event, it is not likely that North Cambridge will bring about the disintegration of the league, which is a prolific source of big league material as well as of the well-known glittering metal.

Walter Hagen

A NEW Metropolitan Golf Association champion is certain to be crowned this week as a field of 110 players, mostly professionals, tee off in the opening round of the Metropolitan open golf championship.

Bob Macdonald, last year's winner from Chicago is among the missing, as is Walter Hagen, winner of the British open title; Cyril Walker, who won the American open title at Oakland Hills; Macdonald Smith, Jim Barnes and Gene Sarazen, P. G. A. champion.

Among the well known performers who start today over the course of the Engineers' Country Club, New York, are Joe Kirkwood, Johnny Farrell, Mike Brady and Emmet French.

The tournament calls for 72 holes of medal play, 18 today, 18 on tomorrow and 36 on Friday.

Three outsiders provided plenty of thrills at the opening pegarum at Crunwood (Ohio) track, winning three of the four events. The favorite, Upholder, was forced to travel four heats to take the feature event, the 2:13 trot. Mabel Gray ran away for almost three miles after colliding with Dear Lady in the first division of the 2:23 trot.

DEMPSEY MIGHT MEET MADDEN LABOR DAY

New York, July 9.—Promoters of the Queensboro A. C. in Long Island City today announced that an offer of $200,000 had been made to Jack Kearns, Jack Dempsey's manager, for a ten-mile bout between the champion and Bartley Madden of New York, to be held in the Queensboro stadium on Labor Day.

Kearns would not say whether the offer would be accepted or not. He said that the champion's motion picture contracts would keep him busy until August 14 and if he could get into fighting trim in the interval the match would be arranged.

PEDAL STARS OF FOUR NATIONS RACE TONIGHT

The Elks Convention is not the only convention in town this week. The grand old sport of cycle racing has a convention of its own tonight at the coal Revere Cycle track.

America, France, Belgium and Italy are four countries represented by riders in tonight's 35-mile motor paced race. Clarence Carman will represent Uncle Sam. France has Marcel Godivier as its standard bearer. Henri Wynsdau is the Belgian entry, while Daniel Piccieni will be the representative of Italy.

A supporting feature of tonight's bill is the tandem race between six teams. The McKenzie brothers will be on the scratch, and the Connolly and Rollins brothers, Depanel Villa, Spiers-Magoli, and Drobach Duran, the other pairs, will have generous handicaps.

SOCCER BOMB IS MADE OF CHEESE

Detroit, July 9.—The soccer bomb that had threatened to explode next week the U. S. F. A. went off with a mild detonation. George Healey of Detroit lead the attack against the National Commission's action of dismissing T. W. Cahill from the secretaryship for his conduct toward President Peter J. Peel at a meeting of the commission in April.

Only officers of the council and State delegates were allowed to sit in the meeting. The debate lasted for four hours, during which former presidents, Dr. Manning and John Fernley, gave evidences mainly in support of the commission but which also proved that Cahill possesses an exceptional temperament.

SANDY BURR CLUB TO OPEN 18 HOLE COURSE

An open tournament has been scheduled with 3-4 handicap allowed each golfer by the Sandy Burr Country Club for Friday and Saturday. The entrance fee is $2, and post entries are allowed.

The prizes will consist of one gross, and three nets. This occasion will mark the first time that a full course of 18 holes has been playable. Considering the good time enjoyed by a small army at the time the first nine were opened last year, an extra enjoyable occasion lies ahead.

DOCTORS SLIT TRIBE MANAGER; ARE FOOLED

"Davey" Bancroft, manager and shortstop of the Braves, was operated on yesterday at the St. Barthol omew Hospital, New York. According to a record received at Braves Field, the attending surgeons failed to find any trace of appendicitis. It is now certain that Bancroft's trouble was caused by being hit with a ball while in Philadelphia. He is doing well, but it will be several weeks before he will be able to return to his team.

NEW MARK SET BY FAYETTE NATIONAL

Columbus, O., July 9.—In a sensational split heat contest, in which a world's record was established, the Milwaukee gelding, Fayette National, won the $5,000 stake for 2:04 trotters.

He defeated the Tavern "Steak" winner, Etta Druien, but she defeated him in the first heat in 2:02¼, a new world's record for four-year-old fillies and by far the fastest heat raced this season.

Upsets featured the sweepstakes for three-year-old pacers and the 2:13 trot, both won by long shots in the auctions.

In the 2:08 trot auctions Fayette National and Etta Druien sold each for above $200 each. Ensign Time $40, Ella Guy $35 and the field $25.

Etta Druien got away flying in the first heat and led all the way, trailing off the rush of Fayette National at the end, the heat being timed in 2:02¼, with three of the field behind the flag.

The gelding got the start in the second and the mare could not head him in 2:03½, and in the final he went out the pace from the half. Etta Druien going to a break in the stretch. The winner is owned by S. F. Gustenstein of Milwaukee.

The champion sweepstakes for three-year-old pacers, worth $4,200, furnished an upset in the defeat of the top heavy favorite, The Farmer, which sold at $50 to $15 over the field. Ben won the first heat romping, but in the second was outfinished by Ramona Direct, from the Murphy stable. When the Illinois gelding, Theodore Guy, went to the front and won, none of the field was near enough.

The talent got another smash in the opening event, the 2:13 trot, in which Princess, a winner over Kendall last week, was favorite. After Woodrow L. had beaten her in the first heat When Call Grave from behind with Fair May, which sold for $10 in $30 pools, and won handily. Bessie McDive, a North Kendall winner last week, repeated in the 2:15 pace, in which she outclassed the field.

Fayette National, which won the 2:08 trot today, won the $10,000 stake at the Windsor, Ont., track Saturday on Friday, and only arrived at the local track last night. It is the fourth straight winning race for the gelding this season.

YALE CREW HAS SECRET TRIAL ON SEINE

Paris, July 9.—The Yale crew, America's entry in the Olympic competition, today took a secret practice spin over the 1¾ miles Olympic course on the Seine River, afterward refusing to divulge their time with true fraternity secretiveness, but resting in preparation for their typical training table dinner.

Coach Ed Leader, Boat Expert Pollock and Trainer Sidney Coe are most satisfied with the condition of their charges, who will present teh same boatful at Monday's trials as the shell has contained in every race since May 3. There are the loudest praises for the St. Germain training table, which the men say, will overshadow the memories of Y clubs' grub for many rowing years to come.

The Yale men who constitute the youngest crew ever assembled in Olympic competition look to the English and Belgian crews for their stiffest competition in the boats next Monday and Tuesday and to the finals the following Thursday, after the final event, in which the Eli men are confident they will be victorious, the party will disperse, some of the oarsmen returning to America on the Resolute July 23 and others travelling abroad until the opening of the fall term at New Haven.

BOSTON YACHTS TO SAIL ON JULY 19

The annual eastward cruise of the Boston Yacht Club is scheduled to start on Saturday, July 19, with the first stop at Little Harbor and the second probably at Peak's Island. From thence the fleet will cruise by easy stages to Bar Harbor.

Indications point to a larger turnout of the yachtsmen than ever before, while the various social features and inter-racing events give promise of making the event the most enjoyable yet.

The evening of the 19th will be a fete night at Marblehead, with dancing and other festivities at the clubhouse on a most elaborate scale.

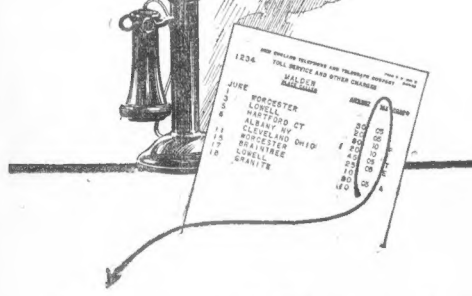
SO. BOSTON BOWS TO ST. ANDREWS NINE, 9-3

St. Andrews won its second straight Twilight league game for the second half last evening by defeating South Boston at Brookline Field, 9 to 3.

South Boston scored first when McCarthy singled and came home on Leary's double. The Saints scored twice in the second when Faulkner singled, reached third on Lee's double and scored on Ashworth's single. Lee also scored on this hit.

HONOLULU KID OUT TO MEET RIVALS

While challenges are being hurled thick and fast by aspiring heavyweights and their managers, Fred Wiederhold wonders why the pugilistic defy of his big colored heavyweight, Honolulu Kid, is being ignored. With a record of 17 knockout in his last 21 encounters, including one over "Cyclone" Harris of Worcester, Wiederhold is of the opinion that his protege should be recognized by ambitious matchmakers of New England clubs.



Telephone Toll Messages Now Free From Federal Tax

THE federal taxes laid on telephone toll messages by the Revenue Act of 1921 have been removed by the Revenue Act of 1924, which was enacted on June 2, and became effective as regards these taxes on July 2. Under the act of 1921, the taxes imposed on telephone messages were as follows:

On a telephone message for which the charge was more than fourteen cents and not more than fifty cents a tax of..... 5 cents

On a telephone message for which the charge was more than fifty cents, a tax of..... 10 cents

These taxes were highest in proportion to the charge for service for toll messages over moderate distances, the tax in some cases amounting to one-third of the toll charge.

We have anticipated the increased use of toll facilities that will follow the removal of these taxes and have taken the necessary steps to prepare for it.

More widely imitated, perhaps, than any other cigarette, yet Fatima is as distinctive today as it was twenty years ago.

Men who have smoked all kinds of cigarettes still prefer Fatima. Why? Because, try as they will, they simply can't find anything else to take its place.

OUR BOYS COME THROUGH

THE shot-putting events, which are a very important part of the Olympic games in France, are all over and OUR BOYS came through as per schedule.

It was almost a clean sweep for old Uncle Sam, taking first, second, third and fifth places for a total of some 21 points, putting the Stars and Stripes right up at the top of the pole after Old Glory had been hauled down earlier in the day to make way for the Union Jack of Great Britain.

Our "strong arm" squad was the supposed "weak link" in an otherwise 100 per cent. perfect team and it must have come as a great shock to our cousins across the Big Pond to see these boys perform.

It is also a pleasure right here at home to recall to some of our weak-kneed brothers how we predicted while the boys were still on the water bound for France—that they would "bring home the bacon."

Hats off to Hill, Houser, Hartranft and Anderson and good luck to the rest of our lads who are doing their utmost against great odds to uphold the honor and glory of the United States.

Another hard blow to the calamity howlers.

HUNDREDS OF VETERANS USE BONUS BUREAU

Every day hundreds of ex-service men are taking advantage of the Boston American-Advertiser Bonus Bureau, Winthrop Square, to solve their troubles and unravel their red tape.

The American and Advertiser welcomes these men and cheerfully aids them, just as all of the Hearst newspapers willingly and earnestly aided in passing the bonus act.

In person and by letter the veterans are increasingly making use of the facilities placed at their disposal by the American-Advertiser.

Again the American wants to warn veterans never to let their precious discharge papers leave their hands. It is necessary to mail these papers either to the American or to Washington in making application for the bonus.

In writing, address your communications to the Boston American Soldiers' Friend, Winthrop square, Boston, Mass.

F. W., DANVERS, MASS.

Q.—Please tell me whether the state of Colorado is paying any bonus to the veterans of the World War.

A.—It is suggested that inquiry be directed to the adjutant general's office, State Capitol, Denver, Col.

G. A. B., SAUGUS, MASS.

Q.—Please tell me the amount of my policy. I was 19½ years old at the time of enlistment, April 16, 1917, and was discharged from the army May 21, 1919, having served in the United States and Panama.

A.—From your length of service you will be entitled to a maximum credit of $600, which, when turned into a twenty-year paid-up policy, will at maturity amount to about $1,250. Service in Panama is regarded as home service and no additional credit is given.

W. D., NEW BEDFORD, MASS.

Q.—I served from May 28, 1917, to March 21, 1919, in this country. How much will my insurance amount to at the end of twenty years?

A.—Assuming that you were discharged from the military or naval service under honorable conditions, your month of service would entitle you to a maximum credit of $500, which upon the maturity of the policy will amount to about $1,350.

E. J. S., FISHERVILLE, MASS.

Q.—Please tell me if I am entitled to a bonus? I enlisted April 18, 1918, sailed for France, May 15, 1918, and served in France and Germany, receiving an honorable discharge after three years of service.

A.—You are not eligible to apply for the bonus if you did not enlist until April 12, 1918. The benefits of the bonus law are extended veterans who served in the World War any time between April 15, 1917, and November 12, 1918. You did not serve between those dates.

J. S., NEWTON UPPER FALLS, MASS.

Q.—I joined the army June 25, 1917, was overseas about 14 months and was discharged June 26, 1919. How much bonus will I receive?

A.—You will be entitled to a maximum credit of $1 a day for home service and $1.25 a day for overseas service between April 6, 1917, and June 26, 1919, after deducting the first 60 days of service. The amount of this credit, multiplied by 2½, will give you the approximate face value of the policy which you will receive.

MRS. K. T. E., ROXBURY, MASS.

Q.—Does the bonus law grant any benefits in my case? I am the American widow of a Canadian soldier who served in the World War and who died about two years ago.

A.—If your husband did not serve in the naval or military force of the United States during the World War, you, as his widow, would not be entitled to the bonus.

F. J. G., BROCKTON, MASS.

Q.—Please tell me how much my bonus policy will be under the bonus law. I enlisted December 12, 1917, sailed for overseas March 25, 1918, and returned January 22, 1919, and was discharged February 7, 1919.

A.—You are entitled to an adjusted compensation credit of $1 a day for home service and $1.25 a day for overseas service after deducting the first sixty days. This sum multiplied by 2½ will give you the face value of the policy which you will receive.

MYSTIC LAKES WATER SAFE FOR SWIM

The State public health council has notified the Metropolitan District that the waters of Upper and Lower Mystic lakes are not polluted to the extent to make bathing in the water dangerous.

Recent complaints have been made to the commission and to X. H. Goodenough, chief engineer of the State Board of Health, that the waters were discolored, and possibly polluted. Samples of the water were analyzed, the report submitted showing there are no more bacteria in the lakes than at Revere or Nantasket beaches during the bathing season.

Facts to Remember About Mother's Outing Trips

The second set of coupons will appear in the Boston American next Monday, July 14, and will be followed with another each day for five days. When these coupons are presented in person at the American Outing Headquarters, they will be exchanged for one ticket and a tag admitting the holder to Paragon Park for the second boat trip.

Outing headquarters, No. 288 Devonshire street, will open at 8 a. m. each Saturday.

First come, first served.

Only 3,000 persons permitted by law on the two boats.

The law requires that every passenger, even babies, must have own ticket on boarding steamboat.

First boat leaves Nantasket Beach Steamboat Company wharf on Atlantic avenue at 9:15 each Tuesday morning. Returning it will leave Nantasket at 3:30 p. m.

The second boat leaves the Atlantic avenue wharf at 10:45 the same morning, and returning leaves Nantasket at 4:30 in the afternoon.

Be sure and read your ticket.

Do not take coupons to the boat, as they will not be accepted.

Those who failed to get on the first trip, be sure to start next Monday saving the second series coupons. Five are needed, consecutive dates.

Get entertainment tag at Outing Headquarters when exchanging coupons.

H. B. JOSSELYN HOST OF "OSGOOD FOLKS"

More than 150 employees of Osgood's were the guests of Howard B. Josselyn, treasurer of the C. E. Osgood Company, at his beautiful estate in Waltham last evening, enjoying to the utmost a real New England Barn Dance, with entertainment by talent from the Osgood organization and an old fashioned banquet.

Speeches were made by L. J. Clifford, buyer and sales manager; Dave Connell, store manager, and A. Nell Osgood, assistant treasurer. Various other of the organization were called upon for a few remarks. Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Osgood were among the invited guests.

CLIP COUPONS FOR MOTHERS' OUTING

The popularity of the Boston American's outings to Nantasket for the mothers and children of Boston gained in former years, is being maintained. Those who intend to take advantage of next Monday's and Tuesday's outing must clip coupons for next Tuesday's outing.

As the capacity of the two steamers placed at the disposal of the Boston American by General Manager Frederick L. Lane of the Nantasket Steamboat Company is only 3,000 passengers, the demand for tickets is likely to exceed the supply.

This means that those who follow instructions and apply early at the Outing Headquarters, No. 288 Devonshire street, will get the tickets. Therefore, clip your coupons daily, present them early, and secure your tickets and tags if you want to go.

CLIP EVERY COUPON.

Coupon No. 3 in series No. 1 appears in today's American. If you have clipped Nos. 1 and 2 in this series, and if you clip No. 3 today, No. 4 on Thursday and No. 5 on Friday, you will be entitled to bring them all to No. 288 Devonshire street early on Saturday and you will be assured of partaking of the two boat trips the Boston American has arranged for the tired mothers and eager children of Boston.

Keep in mind these facts:

You cannot secure tickets and the coupons entitling you to admission to Paragon Park and its features, free dainties for luncheon and bathhouse facilities at the beach on five coupons clipped from papers published on the same day. They must be numbered Series 1, No. 1, No. 2, No. 3; No. 4, No. 5, clipped from this week's issues of the Boston American on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

THREE MORE CHANCES.

You cannot bring these coupons to the boat and expect to change them for the tickets. All of the available tickets will have been issued on Saturday, July 12, three days before the boat sails on Tuesday, July 15.

If you have failed to get into line for this week's outing you will have three more chances of participating in these outings. Next week on Monday, the first coupons of series No. 2 will be printed. Start then and follow instructions carefully and you can enjoy the outing scheduled for July 22.

For those who clip the coupons in time this week and present them early on Saturday at No. 288 Devonshire street it is important to know these facts. When you receive your tickets and coupons you will be told at what hour your boat sails.

In Burlesque

AGNES DEMPSEY

There are two boats, sailing at different times in the forenoon. Your ticket will entitle you to passage on one of these boats.

GOOD FOR ONE BOAT.

It will not be good on the other boat, as it will have its full complement of passengers, allowing for loss, and you could not get on it without displacing someone else.

Be sure to remember at what hour your boat sails and be on the wharf in time to take it.

The Boston American has secured many concessions for that outing than it has ever been able to for outings in the past. The generous spirit and kindly attitude of Frederick L. Lane of the Nantasket Beach Steamboat Company, Joseph Stone of Paragon Park and H. Sarkin of the Sagamore Bathhouses, have prompted them to co-operate with the Boston American in the most generous way.

ALL FOR TEN CENTS.

Through their generosity you will be able to take a seven-mile boat trip to the beach and back, partake free of refreshments and entertainments which would ordinarily cost more than one dollar for the round trip and a little painstaking on your part.

Besides, for five cents you can gain admission to entertainments which ordinarily cost a quarter.

So, if you will do your part carefully and promptly the Boston American and the kind men who are cooperating with this paper in these outings, you are assured of the enjoyment of an outing which would ordinarily cost about two dollars, and attentions which cannot be bought by the ordinary excursionist for any money.

Again: Clip your coupons daily, present them at No. 288 Devonshire street on Saturday, keep in mind the sailing hour of the boat on which your ticket will be good, and be on the wharf—Rowe's Wharf, Atlantic avenue, promptly.

FOR COUPON SEE PAGE TWO.

THEATRE HOURS ARE CHANGED TOMORROW

There will be a general shifting of theatre schedules at some of the down town houses tomorrow on account of the Elks' parade. In fact one of the theatres, where "Peaches Bloo" is playing, the new starting hours give the men to take their places in the parade. The box office will open as usual, as the matinee at that house will start promptly at 1:30, giving the audience an opportunity to move out of the theatre in time to catch up with the parade.

As the parade is expected to run well into the twilight hours, the announcement is made from both the Tremont theatre, where "Topsy and Eva" is playing, and the Colonial, which is showing Douglas Fairbanks in "The Thief of Bagdad," that the closing time of the night showing will be 8:30 instead of the usual 8 o'clock hour, with the doors open at 7:30.

Theatre-goers will find it advantageous to plan quite an early evening of entertainment in order to avoid street congestion.

FIREWORKS SHOW AT BRAVES FIELD

Eliot Night will be celebrated in unusual exciting air Braves Field with a display of fireworks. It is expected that no less than 10,000 fans and others will be on hand to witness the display. Something like $3,000 will be spent on the display of pyrotechnics. Boston Elks bands will furnish the music which will start promptly at 8:30 and continue until 9:45.

Grand Exalted Ruler McFarland has been invited, as well as many of the city officials.

ALASKAN SUMMER SAVES RAIL LIGHTS

Seward, Alaska, July 9.—All switch and signal lights between Curry and Nicholaine, Alaska, 305 miles, on the Alaska railroad, have been ordered discontinued by Colonel Lee H. Landis, manager, for the remainder of the Summer on account of continuous daylight. The Alaska railroad is the only line in the world operating a 24-hour service without signal lights, officials say.

ORDERS SIEGE TO GET AMERICANS' SLAYERS

Tirana, Albania, July 9.—President Fan S. Noli of Albania today proclaimed a state of siege in the Province of Durazzo, hoping to capture the murderers of the two American citizens, Robert Lewis Coleman of San Francisco and George B. De Long of New York, who were slain on the Tirana-Scutari high road last April.

FAMOUS FIRSTS

By Mark Stuyvesant

With feminine spirit of independence now spread to China, it has invaded the soul of Chinese women with all the force and tenacity of purpose which it has stirred women in the Western World. Homes have changed and customs long revered and sacred are in the process of change, surely the dead are moving in their graves!

Oriental women have joined the international feminine forces of the world. They're going to work and they're doing all the old rules which have been in force for generations. Not many years ago women were worked entirely in their homes were not even respected. They weren't allowed on the street to speak even to men they were related to if they were alone. But all that has changed. And many girls aren't bending their feet any more. They find the results great exercise of comfort and without comfort they cannot work.

Chinese girls are attending the universities and are studying for the professions. The poorer girls and women are employed in the factories, where they have, to a great extent, replaced men because they are willing to work for less money.

Married women are helping to support their homes and send their children to school, but they are compelled to conform to certain restrictions in regard to their personal appearance in factories. They must wear dark uniforms and dress their hair as unattractively as possible—straight back with a tight knot at the napes of their necks. For they must not run the risk of attracting other men.

But the unmarried working girls are permitted to wear the clothes they choose and they make up for the drab costumes of their married sisters with pink coats, purple trousers, blue slippers and lavender stockings. They wear bangs and bands tied with gay-colored ribbons. They chatter and laugh and are a happy lot.

Besides leaving her home, working and drawing up one does the modern Chinese girl chooses her own husband. If her father be truthful, say to a boy when she was very young, she must refuse to marry him if he does not please her fancy. The customs of her ancestors are not sacred to her. She's independent!

The Helping Hand

Deserted Wife Aided

Editor Helping Hand:

I have the following to offer: Two pairs of corduroy pants, new, for a child of seven and playsuits for smaller child. Several child's union suits and material to make. For a small woman, a crepe blouse, a nice serge overdress and skirt, and several odds and ends that could be utilized. The dresses need a little cleaning but are good. I will send the things to one address. F. D.

Thank you. You have been sent the address of Mrs. R. P., a deserted mother.

Clothes to Make Over

Editor Helping Hand:

Please send me the names and addresses of some needy families who might use some ladies' clothing and 38 or 40-in. aprons who can make over clothes. Also some one who would like pieces for quilts. I wish I could do more but there are so many needy ones just now.

MISS. E. S. F.

Thank you. We have sent you the address of Mrs. A. M. M., who can use the clothing, and of Mrs. H. G., who would like pieces for little grandchildren's quilting quilts.

Clothes For Family

Editor Helping Hand:

Please send me the address of some poor family as I have three pairs of shoes and six pairs of trousers for a girl of about ten years of age. Also three sweaters, some caps and other things for children. Also some men's underwear and some other clothes for a man about size 36 or 38.

A. E. P. 2.

Thank you. Mrs. F. M.'s husband wears size 38 and she has a little girl about ten in need of shoes, so we have sent you her address.

Boys' Wash Suits

Editor Helping Hand:

I have several small boys' wash suits, size four and five years, which I would be glad to send to someone who has a child that can use them. If you will send me the address of some mother who would like to have the suits I will be only too glad to send them. MRS. E. O. T.

Thank you. We have sent you the address of Mrs. A. M. G., who appeals for a mother of seven.

Here's a Bassinet

Editor Helping Hand:

Will you kindly send somebody to get a baby's bassinet from me? It is in very good condition. I am sorry I have not got the mattress any more.

MME. K. V. W.

Thank you. Just at present we have no appeals for bassinets on file, but feel sure that there are mothers in need of them. We will hold this and another offer for replies.

Sends Money

Editor Helping Hand:

Would you please see that Mrs. S. W. receives the enclosed money order for $3. R. E. C.

Somerville.

The money will be forwarded to Mrs. S. W., and we are taking this way of thanking the unknown giver.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. F. X. Mahoney

Boston Health Commissioner.

At this season of the year there is constant danger from plant poisoning—brought about by contact with any number of poisonous plants that are to be found in the woods.

Dr. Mahoney.

There poisonous plants include bittersweet or night shade, deadly nightshade, fox glove, horseback, spotted cowbane, jamestown weed, Indian poke, monkshood and poke berry.

The poisons from all of these are absorbed by the heart action. The action in every case is the same. There is a great weakness, irritation of the stomach.

Send for your doctor at once, instruct the messenger to tell him what's the matter so he can come prepared.

While he is coming, give an emetic—one tablespoon of mustard in hot water if it is handy, if it is not, one heaping teaspoonful of table salt in tepid water—then stick your finger down the throat and force the vomiting.

As soon as the stomach has been emptied of what remaining poison may be in it, give strong coffee.

Coffee is the best heart stimulant we have. But as Dr. Charles W. Dulles suggests in his excellent little book, "Emergencies," don't fill the second with your coffee or tea as if you were preparing a banquet, but mix hot water and the leaves or grounds, squeeze them well, stir together and give the whole—leaves, grounds and everything.

Have the patient remain lying down with his head low, even when vomiting, and keep warmth to the extremities.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED.

Please help me to reduce.

MRS. E. L. W.

Abstain from fats and starchy foods. This includes cream. Substitute skimmed milk. Cut down your sugar to a minimum. Eat plenty of green vegetables and some cereals. Do not eat any white bread.

My baby's hair is very thin and he has dandruff. What do you advise?

E. F.

It is scaley or yellowish crust appears on the baby's head, it should be greased at night with vaseline or sweet oil. In the morning, after washing it, the head should be gently rubbed with a clean cloth.

I am 47 years old and get a smothering feeling as if I am going to die. Have been to several doctors but get no relief.

MRS. M. K.

It is impossible to give you any advice with the meagre explanation which you give of your condition. I would advise you to be thoroughly examined by a physician. There might be some trouble with your thyroid gland.

BETTING ON President Coolidge is 11 to 5 that he will be elected. Betting on the unknown quantity—La Follette—it ought to be 11,000 to 1 on Coolidge at this moment.

Whoever thinks the people of the United States are going to vote for a Presidential candidate chosen by the "boys in the back rooms," otherwise the ex-barrenders, requested to be political bosses, don't know much about the American people.

AMERICAN MISSIONARIES, it is said, will not be protested against "persecution in Japan." What's the use of Japanese, but if missionaries are not happy there they ought to come home. There are plenty that need converting here in America. And it is none of our business if the Japanese do not want to go to Heaven. It seems inconsistent to refuse them entrance here and at the same time to spend money sending them to Heaven to live there with us through all eternity. They have an Asiatic heaven of their own. Let them enjoy it. Providence apparently as here. We may be wrong in there, among the "many mansions."

YE WO HUM, Chinese gentleman and laundryman, died in a big hospital, although a Chinese witch doctor had done his best. When the witch doctor pointed them red, on the theory that devils, which cause pain, are afraid to go through anything red.

Before you laugh make — that you are not superstitious about 13, going under a ladder, or anything else in the witch doctor line.

NEW HIGHS SET BY MANY NEW YORK STOCKS

New highs for the year were set by many New York stocks as prices continued to surge upward.

Among issues of fresh tops for the years were American Water Works up 6, Atchison, Nickel Plate, General Electric up 3 and 2, International Nickel, both St. Louis & Southwestern issues, Studebaker, St. Louis & San Francisco, Southern Railway, West Penn up 5, both issues, United Railway, American Smelting and Philadelphia Company.

Boston Stock Exchange trading in American Telephone was active and 3 points higher, the rights sold unchanged. United Fruit was up 2 at 200, new high. United Shoe was active and unchanged. Northern Maine was up fractionally. Mergenthaler sagged a point.

Firmness of Railroad and New York traction issues counteracted the heaviness of some of the industrial issues in New York bond trading, giving the market a generally better tone.

Here convertible bonds, Kayo-adjustment to and Wisconsin & Lake Erie 4s, advancing a point or so were among the most active bonds. Brooklyn Union Gas moved up 1 to 2 points.

Brazilian State and municipal obligations were resistant, but reserved their full strength and on reports that the San Pablo revolution gradually was being suppressed.

Happy Vacation Days

are made still happier when you have a summer home of your own to go to. After work, week-ends—good times to tone up your muscle and nerves for the daily battle and grind. See the columns below for bargains in summer cottages and rooms.

"THERE IT IS"

Just the thing you wanted to buy—and it took only an instant to find it in The American's classified columns.

"8 Years — Received Wonderful Results"

I have been advertising in the Boston American for the past eight years, and would say that I have received wonderful results, especially in letting rooms, quites and stores.

BOSTON AMERICAN

LARGEST EVENING CIRCULATION IN NEW ENGLAND

"No chances any more?" "Lazybones" was making that complaint thirty-five years ago. Charles M. Conant, at seventy, found an opportunity for public service in a Maine town eight miles off the railroad.

The dairymen of Monroe and the orchardists of Winterport never got anywhere until they learned the value of team-work. They were easy picking for the bargain-hunting middleman. And then they woke up.

What Happened in the Home Town When a Real Minute-Man "Retired" from Business

THIRTY-FIVE years ago, the lament or the alibi of the ambitionless New England boy was that there were "no chances any more."

Gould had the railroads, Astor the real estate, Barnum the big show, Mr. Rockefeller the oil; everything was "all sewed up."

Alexander Graham Bell's telephone had been in working order several years.

There was a Morse telegraph set in every railroad station.

The crowd had given up its trip down town every evening simply to see the electric lights turned on. Everything that was worth doing had been done.

Tough luck, to be a boy of 16 in the year 1889!

Find one of those boys today, if you can, and ask him what part he has played in the tremendous later development of electricity.

Ask him how many motion-picture theatres he owns.

Was he wide awake, or fast asleep, eighteen or twenty years ago, when a man by the name of Ford was handing out exclusive agencies for the sale of his cars?

Perhaps he was sufficiently alert to grab the talking machine, when that came along. No? Did he miss that, too? Well, how about the radio?

"No chance," in 1889! "No chance," and yet young Mr. Lazybones, drone or dreamer, has lived to see ten thousand sons of the Hustler family rise to riches through the movies, the talking machine, the motor-car and the radio.

Never was a sillier statement made, Minute Men of New England, than that opportunity knocks at your door but once.

Here in these Six States, opportunity comes banging at the door every morning. If there is a boy or girl of 16 in the house, Mr. Opportunity frequently calls two or three times in the same forenoon.

Are you wide awake? Do you mean business? Do you really WANT to get ahead? These are the important questions.

A recent development in the neighboring Maine towns of Winterport and Monroe is a striking illustration of what can be done almost anywhere in New England when brains and courage get together to tackle the problems of a community.

The hero of the story, who would prefer very much not to be singled out for mention, is Charles M. Conant. We call Mr. Conant by name, contrary to the gentleman's wishes, because of the interest his achievement is likely to arouse among those who name heredity first, or at least second, among the factors that count for success.

Mr. Conant's father settled in Winterport early in the last century on a half acre of land. He had the "right stuff in him," as they say in the country, for he was a direct descendant of that Roger Conant who came up from Plymouth in 1624 to direct the Dorchester Adventurers in their Cape Ann enterprise, and who remained at Naumkeag, when all but two or three of the planters had quit, to wrest success from what had threatened to be dismal failure.

Charles Conant's father must have had his full share of the sobriety, prudence and integrity which marked the first of the American Conants, for the place which eventually he handed down to his son was one of the best in Waldo County.

Five years ago last January, finding himself close to the three score years and ten of the psalmist, Charles Conant closed the door of his place of business in Bangor and went home to Winterport, to spend such years as might remain to him in the quiet and contemplation that go with country life.

He had earned a rest. For thirty-five years his agricultural-implement and water-system business in Bangor had been one of the most conspicuously successful in that part of New England.

Winterport, a town of about 1500 people, lies about 13 miles south of Bangor. Mr. Conant went home to a place of 200 acres, 1,000 apple trees, mostly Baldwins and Starks, several head of grade Jerseys, and as fine a set of farm buildings as one is likely to see in a day's journey.

And Some People Think Maine Raises Only Potatoes.

The Conant place, officially in the town of Winterport but served by a Rural Free Delivery Route out of Monroe, is nearer to the heart of the latter town than to the more thickly settled part of Winterport.

The Bangor business man who had come home to "take things easy" found himself betwixt and between both villages, in close touch with the important citizens of two towns.

He had not been at home long before he learned that something was wrong with both Winterport and Monroe.

Monroe, incorporated in 1812 as Lee Plantation, but named for the fifth President in 1819, had a population of 1606 in 1850 but never has equalled that figure from that day until this. In 1900, the census-taker could find only 950 inhabitants: in 1910, only 872; four years ago, a scant 734.

The farmers of Monroe, like those of Winterport, are above the ordinary in intellect and energy. Those of Monroe specialize on milk. Their dairies are of good size. Their herds are mostly of Jerseys, with some Guernseys. They are good poultrymen, too.

As the retired business man from Bangor met with one after another of his Monroe neighbors he found that there was general complaint that the milk business was not paying. They were selling to one of the big contractors, and one and all felt that the big fellow was taking the cream and leaving them the skimmed milk, in more senses than one.

Fifty-one years ago, the milk-raisers of Monroe got together, organized a company, built a cheese factory and for something like seventeen years handled their own milk in a more or less haphazard way. Interest fell off year by year and in 1890 the organization quit the field and the factory was taken over by contractors.

Mr. Conant thought the thing to do was get together and talk things over. The neighbors held a series of conferences.

"Our entire system of doing business," Mr. Conant told them at the close of one of these get-togethers, "is so unbusiness like, so uneconomic, that nothing but the New England farm would have stood up under it. If a merchant in Bangor or Rockland attempted to follow such a course the sheriff would have a slip of paper on his door within a twelvemonth.

"In the first place, in order to get our product into the hands of the contractor we have to haul it into Monroe and then pay for its shipment to the Maine Central station at Brooks, eight miles distant. Twenty-five cents a hundred for milk, 40 cents for cream, for those 8 miles.

"My suggestion is that we reorganize the Monroe Cheese Company, reopen the factory and be our own contractors."

The suggestion was adopted, and Charles M. Conant—although HE insists he has done and is doing only one man's small part—has been busier ever since than he was when in the "old days" at Bangor.

This was three years ago. Today, the Monroe cheese factory, a 21-2 story building 5 miles from the Bangor & Aroostook Railroad at Frankfort and 8 miles from the Maine Central, at Brooks, is one of the busiest and most prosperous institutions of its kind in New England.

The average price the Monroe cheese factory paid last year to the dairymen of Monroe for their butter fat was 56 1-2 cents per lb.

And what have been some of the results of this co-operative movement, inspired by a tired business man?

One result has been to give the farmer a very much higher net return than he received when he was trucking his fluid milk every day eight miles over the highway to the railroad.

Another result has been to increase the valuation of Monroe property. There are no abandoned farms, to be picked up for a song. The town is well to do and is growing richer. Charles M. Conant, legally and officially of Winterport, says he had nothing to do with it but his associates in the Monroe Cheese Company tell a different story.

Before the cheese factory was fairly started and admittedly a great success Mr. Conant had turned his attention to Winterport and the apple industry. Here, he and his associates erected Maine's first community packing-house for apples.

The fruit organization, three of whose twenty members live in Monroe and the rest in Winterport, has been in existence about five years. The packing house a structure 36x100 feet, was built two years ago.

"We have not enrolled every orchardist in the community," Mr. Conant says, "for there is one man in this town who owns 20,000 apple trees and who is a successful apple company all by himself. He did not need us.

"But we have all the members we want, in the fruit organization, and I am satisfied we are going to get more and more for our crops.

"There are apple men not far from here who will have to admit that last year their apples rotted in the cellars, because there was no market for them. We sorted and packed ours in our own packing-house, on a Bangor & Aroostook siding in Winterport, sent them in to Portland to be placed in cold storage, and shipped them off to Liverpool, where they sold at fair prices."

For No. 1 McIntosh Reds, an Autumn apple, the Winterport growers last year received $6.25 per barrel, net, but the bulk of the crop was of the "cooking" type, and netted the grower $1.68. The packing-house handled 3,834 barrels of loose fruit.

These latter apples, generally described as "tree run" and including Number 1's, Number 2's, canners and ciders, in the days before the packing-house might have brought from $1 to $1.25 the barrel.

The Winterport Fruit Growers Association, Mr. Conant says, has about all the business it can handle. The Monroe Cheese Company, on the other hand, has not nearly reached its capacity.

"If I were making a suggestion to farmers in other New England communities," Mr. Conant says, "I would urge them to form similar organizations. The thing the farmer must do, if he is going to make more than a living wage out of his business, is eliminate the middleman so far as is possible. It appears to me that co-operation is the way out."

Week after week, Minute Men, we have been trying on this page to make the point that New England, far from being "all in," far from being "run down" or "run out," is the Land of Opportunity, the true Land of Promise.

Experiences like that of Charles M. Conant, and Monroe and Winterport, tell the story. We have printed twenty accounts of much the same significance.

With the report before us of how Monroe is coming back one feels justified in saying that there is not an "impossible" town in all New England. Monroe, you want to remember, is off the railroad.

And the lesson?

Stop talking about "lack of opportunity."

Look about you. Study your neighborhood, your town, your county.

California? Great State! Oregon? Wonderful! Florida? A dream!

But New England!

OUR New England!

A Land of Opportunity.

THE Land of Promise.

Cash in on it.
